Lack of Rain On Prairies Cutting Down Crop Total

Canadian Wheat Pool Estimates Wheat of Plains at Present at Sixty-five Per Cent of Normal; Even Peace River District Reports Prospects Less Favorable.

Winnipeg, July 12.—The prairie wheat crop is only sixty-five per cent of normal, due to the drought in all three provinces, according to a statement issued by the Canadian Wheat Pool to-day through its statistician, A. Cairns.

In the Peace River district of Alberta, where reports had previously been promising, crops have "deteriorated appreciably during the last two weeks," says the report.

The condition of the wheat crop in Manitoba on July 11 was seventy per cent of normal, compared with 102 per cent on the same date last year and eighty-eight per cent on June 26 this year, according to the report.

The condition of the Saskatchewan wheat crop on July 11 was sixty-nine per cent of normal, and Albert fifty-four per cent of normal on the same date. These figures compared with 101 per cent in both provinces a year ago.

OATS AND BARLEY
Alberta correspondents of the Pool reported fifty-eight per cent of the oats and barley already in shot blade, Saskatchewan fifty per cent and Manitoba thirty-eight per cent.

Practically all Manitoba points reported rain badly needed, the crops suffering from drought. Albert also was suffering from lack of moisture.

Alberta correspondents reported sixty-one per cent of the wheat to be already in head, Saskatchewan twenty-nine and Manitoba forty-four.

Manchuria Must Be Free Of Soviet Propaganda, Declare Chinese Leaders

Peking, July 12.—C. T. Wang, Chinese Foreign Minister, in his first statement concerning the crisis in Manchuria, declared the Nationalist Government was determined to stamp out communism and would not tolerate Soviet propaganda in any form.

143 DEPORTED

Shanghai, July 12.—An official Chinese statement made at Harbin, Manchuria, and received here, said 143 Russians officially or unofficially connected with the Moscow Government had been deported toward Manchuria within the last twelve hours. They left all their belongings behind them.

The Chinese officials said they would send the belongings to Moscow later.

CHECK UP ON MANY
The authorities also were said to be investigating carefully the conduct and professions of a large number of Russians outwardly not connected with the Soviet, but suspected of Soviet propaganda activities.

A news dispatch from Harbin said upwards of 400 Russians had been relieved of their jobs.

RAIDS AND GUARDS
Shanghai, July 12.—The Nationalist Chinese Government at Nanking, although possibly at sword-point with Soviet Russia, has gone no further toward diplomatic severance of relations than the action taken in February, 1928.

Nanaimo Scene Of Celebration By Orangemen

Vancouver, July 12.—To the music of bagpipes and fife and with colorful banners emblematic of their lodges flying, approximately 1,000 Orangemen from Greater Vancouver paraded along Hastings Street and down Granville to Pier D this morning, where they boarded the steamship Princess Elaine, which took them to Nanaimo.

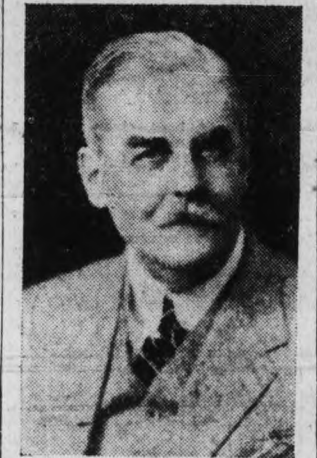

There they joined forces with Orangemen of Vancouver Island to celebrate the 25th anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne.

In Nanaimo the Orangemen held a spectacular parade. Sports events and addresses by prominent members of the lodges were part of the day's programme.

JOHN VIRTUE OF OAK BAY HOTEL, DIES

Made Victoria Hostelry Known World-wide; Generous Backer of Sports

Was Associated With C.P.R. Hotel System in Early Days; Ailing For Some Time

THE LATE JOHN VIRTUE

John Alexander Virtue, proprietor of the Oak Bay Hotel and known to the three generations of Victorians as probably the most generous supporter of athletics in the city, died at 4 o'clock this morning at St. Joseph's hospital. He had been in hospital for some time, with his life slipping away by day, so his death was not unexpected.

Mr. Virtue was born in Montreal sixty-seven years ago, and started his business career in the office of the brokerage firm of Strath and Strath, of St. Francois Xavier Avenue, members of the Montreal Stock Exchange. Five years later he became assistant manager of the exclusive St. James Club of Montreal, where his abilities and personality attracted the attention of the heads of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who frequented the club. As a result, in 1888 they sent him out to Vancouver to take charge of the Hotel Vancouver, which the C.P.R. had opened at the new Pacific terminal port shortly before. In Montreal, he is given credit for introducing to the coast the C.P.R. standard of hotel service.

DURING the week a Times cameraman has been roaming the Victoria beaches shooting pictures for a full page appearing in the Times magazine section Saturday. In his rounds he met many proud parents who swelled the collection of snapshots with some they had taken themselves. A few adults here and there sneaked into the film. With vacation time here the many beautiful stretches of sand of Victoria were crowded with youngsters and any reader of The Times Saturday is liable to see a familiar face of some happy beach baby smiling at it from the magazine section. When the engraver had made his choice of the best snaps and assembled them for a full page hundreds of youngsters were left in the picture and there were thousands who could not be crowded into the space.

Fifty thousand Boy Scouts from all parts of the world, with 200 from Canada and 1,500 from United States, are starting for England to take part in the twenty-first anniversary of Boy Scouting, at the end of this month. Tomorrow The Times will carry a special dispatch from London on the big camp of these Scouts to be held at Birkenhead.

The "Air Pocket" danger in aviation is now held to be twaddle. A special article of interest to all who fly or hope to fly will discuss this to-morrow.

A few years ago two boys were selling newspapers on the streets of Cleveland. To-day these two boys are known to the world as the Van Sweringen Brothers, who own railroads, banks and almost the city of Cleveland. Saturday's magazine section of The Times will carry a special article on their Horatio Alger careers.

In the Saturday illustrated magazine section there will also be the usual pages of woman's fashions, of week-end cables from across the Atlantic, and a full page on new books of the day and literary topics.

And, the regular four-page colored comic section.

MacDONALD GIVEN WELCOME BACK TO MORAY GOLF CLUB

Elgin, Scotland, July 12.—The Moray Golf Club, at a special meeting last night, unanimously returned Premier Ramsay MacDonald to the full rights of membership, of which the club deprived him in 1916 because of his pacifist utterances at the time.

The members of the club rescinded their resolution of September 1, 1916.

Milk Act Is Soon to Rule In Fraser Valley

Vancouver, July 12.—By 2,493 to 25, the milk producers throughout the Fraser Valley have voted in favor of bringing into effect the Dairy Products Sales Adjustment Act, known as the milk bill, which was passed at the last session of the Legislature.

The vote was taken at five centres yesterday and resulted as follows: Chilliwack, 698 for and 5 against; Agassiz, 92 for and none against; Mission, 313 for and 2 against; Abbotsford, 547 and 2 against; Cloverdale, 839 for and 16 against.

SPONSOR SPEAKS

Commenting on the result of the voting, J. W. Berry, M.P.P. for the Delta, declared it was "splendid." The vote, said Mr. Berry, who sponsored the bill in the Legislature, indicated, as he had stated at Victoria, that seventy-five to eighty per cent of the dairymen of the valley were real operators and were in favor of this bill or any other that would bring them together. He pointed out the polling had not been confined to the members of the Fraser Valley Milk Producers' Association, but had included all the producers of milk.

The keen interest in the bill was shown, he said, by the fact that so many farmers had taken time to the height of the haying season to record their votes.

CANADA'S VIEWS ON U.S. TARIFF STATED TO-DAY

Massey Talks With Stimson at Washington; Protest Is Reported

Washington, July 12.—The fact that a conversation was held between Minister Massey of Canada and Secretary Stimson regarding the tariff revision now under way in Congress became known to-day after reports had circulated in the Capitol that Canada had vigorously protested some of the increases proposed in the House bill.

Word at the Capitol was that the Canadian Government had verbally protested the duties proposed on shingles, lumber and feeder cattle. What happened at the conference between Mr. Massey and Mr. Stimson, however, was withheld at the State Department.

NOTE REPORT DENIED

Spokane, July 12.—A special dispatch to The Spokane Spokesman-Review from Washington, D.C., says Canadian protests against the proposed United States tariff on shingles may result either in a great reduction in the schedule or in restoring shingles to the free list.

"These Canadian protests," the dispatch says, "have been made to the State Department and laid before the administration and have been brought to the attention of influential members of Senate finance committee."

Swedish Fliers In Greenland Await Better Weather

Ottawa, July 12.—A message from Port Burwell on Hudson Strait says Greenland reports weather conditions unfavorable for flying. Dense fog prevails and the Swedish fliers are waiting at Igloolik for suitable conditions before attempting takeoff in their plane, the Sverige. The next scheduled stop on the way to New York is the Island of Anticosti, in the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

EXPLOSION ABOARD BRITISH SUBMARINE BUT NO ONE HURT

Valetta, Malta, July 12.—The X-1, largest British submarine afloat, to-day reported an explosion aboard during naval exercises in the Mediterranean. No lives were lost. No one was injured and the vessel was stated to have been only slightly damaged. The submarine, which is attached to the Mediterranean fleet, is returning to Malta under its own power, escorted by the cruiser Cerberus, and is expected to arrive early to-morrow.

B.C. COAST ASKS ABOUT GRAIN RAIL RATE PLAN

Vancouver Inquires If Eastern Cut to Be Continued Without Western

Vancouver, July 12.—The Vancouver Board of Trade has telegraphed the Board of Railway Commissioners of Canada pointing out Vancouver is much concerned as to the effect of the reduction in wheat freight rates from Great Lakes ports to Montreal and other Atlantic ports until September 30 this year.

The telegram read in part: "While recognizing and appreciating the necessity for this order, and understanding it to be applicable only up to September 30, 1929, all interested here are concerned as to the effect of the reduction carried through to new crop business without a corresponding reduction in western rates. May we ask your consideration of this to the extent that we be advised at the earliest possible date of the intention of the board either to extend, cancel or otherwise change the present order?"

CHICAGO-BERLIN TUNED UP FOR GREENLAND HOP

Three Men To-day Awaiting Opportunity to Leave Hudson Strait Shore

Ottawa, July 12.—A radio message from Port Burwell, on Hudson Strait, radio station to the Department of Marine and Fisheries here indicated The Chicago Tribune's Sikorsky amphibian plane was awaiting an opportunity to take off to-day.

The message read: "Closely packed ice in all directions, but ice around the plane moved out last night and lessened chance of further damage. The plane is waiting for ice to move out enough to allow a take-off."

It is planned Greenland will be the next hop of the plane on its way with three men aboard from Chicago to Berlin.

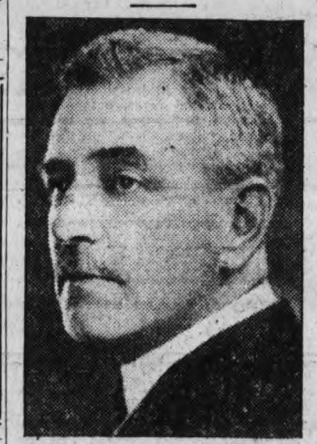

STOCKS SOAR AT NEW YORK

New York, July 12.—A wild bull market demonstration on the New York Stock Exchange to-day greeted the overnight announcement of the reduction of $14,000,000 in brokers' loans, which came after several successive weeks of gains, totaling nearly $500,000,000. About a dozen utilities, half a dozen steels and an assortment of prominent rails and industrials were sent up 22 to more than $20 a share to record prices. United States Steel was bid up $5 to a record price of $203, which is $40 above its 1929 low.

MARK GRAHAM STRICKEN BY HEART ATTACK

Sudden Passing of Prominent Citizen Comes as a Shock to Friends in City

Founded Kiwanis Club and Was President of Canadian Club; Held Other Offices

THE LATE MARK W. GRAHAM

Stricken by a sudden heart attack, Mark W. Graham, one of the most outstanding citizens of Victoria and for many years prominently identified with the public affairs of the city and Province, died at 4:15 o'clock this morning at his home on Granite Street.

The sudden passing of Mr. Graham came as a great shock to his many friends, as, up to a few days ago, he appeared to be in the best of health. While addressing the Confederation Lodge at the Masonic Temple on Wednesday night Mr. Graham complained of not feeling well. He was taken home and at an early hour yesterday morning suffered a very severe heart attack, the family physician having been hastily summoned. Although in a state of collapse he remained conscious up to the time of his death early to-day. Death was due to angina pectoris.

Apart from his business association with the Victoria Steam Laundry, with which he became actively identified in 1913, Mr. Graham had always been prominent in public. He was a staunch Liberal and last year sought the favor of the electorate at the Provincial elections as a Liberal candidate with former Premier Dr. J. D. Maclean, Alderman William T. Strath and Alderman Robert Dewar. Actively identified with the Masonic Order, he was a past master of the Camosun Lodge of A.F. and A.M., and past grand deputy master of District No. 1.

ESQUIMALT MAN SCORES POSSIBLE

Bisley Camp, Eng., July 12 (Canadian Press Cable).—Master Gunner Collings of Esquimalt shot the highest possible score of thirty-five at the 500-yard range of the Conan Doyle service rifle shoot in the National Rifle Association's Empire meet to-day. The performance was the highlight in an exhibition of an all-round excellent marksmanship by the whole Canadian team of eighteen soldiers, when they began intensive competition to-day with the Donegal and Conan Doyle matches as the chief events.

The Conan Doyle match was fired at the 200 and 500-yard ranges, and Collings' score of thirty at the shorter distance placed him below two more Canadians when the aggregate were compiled. The two who jointly led the Canadian entrants with scores of sixty-six were C. S. MacLuska, Toronto, and Lieut. D. Fyvie of Victoria.

LARGE CITADEL TO BE BUILT BY SALVATIONISTS

Brick Building to Be Erected on Cormorant Street This Fall

Drive For Public Aid to Be Initiated Soon; Building Will Cost $40,000

A new citadel will be built this fall by the Victoria corps of the Salvation Army, at an estimated cost of $40,000. The new building will be erected on a large lot recently purchased on Cormorant Street, between Douglas and Blanshard Streets, and will be of brick construction, with a large auditorium, classrooms designed specially for instruction of young people and administrative offices. No provision will be made for officers' quarters.

One-third of the cost has already been pledged by members of the Victoria corps, and a drive for public support will be initiated early in the fall. It is expected that public appreciation of the work of the Salvation Army will result in donations equaling the amount pledged by the local members of the Army. The remainder of the funds required will be secured from the central funds of the Army organization in Canada, and will be repayable in a term of years.

At a special meeting held on Thursday, Major James Merritt, of the Vancouver headquarters of the Salvation Army, explained to an enthusiastic gathering, the assistance which may be expected from the general organization of the Army and the terms which must be complied with to secure that assistance.

Abolition Of Trade Preferences Protested

Melbourne, July 12 (Canadian Press Cable via Reuters).—A spirited protest against abolition of Empire preferential tariffs, instigated by Right Hon. Philip Snowden, Chancellor of the Exchequer, in the House of Commons last Tuesday, has been called to Premier MacDonald by Premier Stanley M. Bruce of Australia.

The necessity of a conference to consider the whole question of intra-Empire trade was urged by Mr. Bruce.

MacDonald and Dawes Talk of Disarmament

Culver City, Cal., July 12.—The Buell biplane Angeleno, powered with a Wright Whirlwind 220-horsepower motor and piloted by L. W. Mendell and R. B. Reinhart, landed here at 2:13 p.m. to-day after an endurance record-shattering nonstop flight of 246 hours 43 minutes, 32 seconds. The fliers took off at 7:29.30 a.m. July 2. The former record stood at 174 hours 59 seconds.

The fliers made a perfect landing on the field after a failure to establish contact for the thirty-eighth refueling.

When the two ships failed to make the contact, the Angeleno circled the field and came down without difficulty. The official time of the landing was 2:13.02 p.m.

"We came down because the tail group started fluttering," said Loren Mendell, chief pilot, as he clambered out of the air sedan. "We have to give the engine credit for everything," he said, smiling towards the Wright Whirlwind motor, the second-hand power-plant which has kept humans in the air beyond all previous records."

Culver City, Cal., July 12.—The 245th hour of flight was passed by the biplane Angeleno at 12:29 p.m. to-day. The plane swooped low over the field here and a note was dropped by Pilots L. W. Mendell and R. B. Reinhart which read:

"Send up 125 gallons of gasoline at 1:30 p.m. and five gallons of oil. Another contact later to-day will be all we'll need. Want some magazines and newspapers, rubbing alcohol and coffee. Feeling fine. Motor O.K."

A gesture of daring confidence in the performance of their plane and motor was made by the pilots as the eleventh day of their flight began and saw them swinging in wide circles over this airport. At times the black biplane slipped not a whit and through-out the morning they continued a stunt which those on the ground hoped would be discarded. The fears of the observers, however, were not well founded, for at the end the plane landed on the field.

Fliers at the airport agreed that if the motor should ever stop while the ship was on the far curve of one of its circles there could be no hope for a landing at the airport, which would mean loss of the flight record. Although they were aware of the N.A.A. flight regulations, this bothered the record-breakers not a whit and throughout the morning they continued a stunt which those on the ground hoped would be discarded. The fears of the observers, however, were not well founded, for at the end the plane landed on the field.

MacDonald and Dawes Talk of Disarmament

Ottawa, July 12.—The net debt of Canada decreased by $92,620,133 in the twelve months ended June 30 last, according to figures issued by the Finance Department to-day. At the end of June, 1928, the net debt stood at $2,244,142,450. On June 30 last it amounted to $2,151,522,317.

During the first three months of the present fiscal year, which are covered by the statement issued to-day, ordinary revenue of the Dominion showed an increase of $13,529,152 over the corresponding period a year ago. The increase in ordinary expenditures, is shown as $691,286. The statement represents only the receipts and payments which have passed through the books of the finance department up to the last day of June.

The ordinary revenue of Canada for the first quarter of the present fiscal year, comprising the months of April, May and June, was $144,653,096. For the corresponding three months in 1928, ordinary revenue totaled $131,122,946. Increases in favor of the present year were recorded in customs collections, excise duties and income tax. There was a falling off in sales at stamp tax collections. The amount of excise duties collected was $15,329,888 or $462,020 more than in the first quarter of 1928 period.

UTILITY BOARD AGAIN FAVORED BY CONVENTION

Island Boards of Trade Reiterate Demand Made Last Year at Qualicum Parley

Much Business Conducted at Annual Gathering of Island Business Organizations

The Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island yesterday afternoon reiterated the opinion, expressed last year at Qualicum Beach, that the Government of the Province of British Columbia should create a public utilities commission, to control the rates and other activities of power corporations.

At the afternoon session, held at the Chamber of Commerce, the delegates defeated by a thirteen to twelve vote, a resolution demanding a power commission similar to Eastern Canadian organizations. This motion was presented by R. P. Matheson of Esquimalt, in replacement of a much stronger resolution, which discussion indicated, had no chance of adoption.

Capt. Matheson battled strongly for approval of the original resolution, which asked the Government to limit earnings of power companies to a return on the actual cash invested, and would have recorded the Associated Boards as opposed to giving away power rights before creation of a hydro-electric commission.

"If we get a hydro-electric commission to control rates, before you give away Campbell River, we will get a standard gauge with which to measure all other power rates," he said, pointing out that the credit of this Province calls for paying interest charges on watered stock recently distributed.

Buttermilk and Eggs Not Enough for Mrs. Olson

Her Appetite Leans Towards Meats and Vegetables Since She Took "Keeno"

No More Stomach or Liver Trouble; Rheumatic Pains Banished in a Hurry

For a number of years Mrs. Anna Olson, 1544 Union Street, Vancouver, suffered with stomach and liver trouble and she had rheumatism in her left leg. She took "Keeno" and this great medicine drove all excess acids and poisons out of her system in a hurry. The result is that Mrs. Olson is enjoying fine health once more.

Previous to taking "Keeno" Mrs. Olson did everything and tried everything to obtain relief, but all to no avail. She lived on buttermilk, eggs and other light foods in her efforts to regain health. Instead of this limited diet helping her it only caused greater weakness because of insufficient nourishment.

Amendment of recent fisheries regulations to permit the taking of ten grilse per diem, or five salmon of any species per person, on the fish boat; also that an immature salmon, either a spring or coho salmon, weighing up to three pounds in the round or two and a half pounds, dressed with the head on, constitutes a "grilse". Submitted by Duncan.

Systematic destruction of Merganser ducks, preferably just before the nesting season, with support after Major Railway and General Money had supported a resolution from Duncan.

The Duncan board won support for enforcement of regulations controlling Indian weirs on Cowichan River, alleged to have lapsed because of lack of co-operation between the Indian and Fisheries Departments of the Federal Government.

The proper authorities will be asked to investigate and report on the feasibility of controlling the outlet of water at Cowichan Lake, to have a greater volume of water on the Cowichan River at the extreme low water period. A. Peterson of Duncan spoke to the resolution.

MOTOR FREIGHT The convention considered introduction of some form of Carriers' Act is necessary for the protection of truck owners and the public, and favored legislation similar to that now effective in Ontario. G. A. Cheeke of Nanaimo spoke to the resolution.

The president was instructed to name a committee to bring forward suggestions for the better protection of game birds and animals from wild vermin, cats, dogs and rats.

DUMPING EVILS The convention believed British Columbia to be suffering through the dumping of cheap fruit, vegetables, eggs and other foodstuffs from the United States into the British Columbia season comes in, and the effect on British Columbia producers to be disastrous, and resolved that the Government be urged to take steps to give relief to the British Columbia producers from this situation, and ordered a copy of the resolution sent to the Canadian Horticultural Society.

by power concerns to innocent investors. E. L. MacDonald, Courtenay, said his district wanted quick action on power development, and reported that Hon. F. P. Burden, Minister of Lands, had informed him that the Government now has no power to set up a public utilities commission and had admitted that, should the British Columbia Electric Railway Company Limited, following development of Campbell River, build a dam on the Campbell River and bring power down the Island for use in Victoria, the company could expect to strike rates which would pay interest on their full power investment and the Government could do nothing about it.

FOUR YEARS TO FIND OUT P. L. Anderson of Courtenay noted that Mr. Burden believed he had power under water rights legislation to control rates and other power matters. "Maybe he has, and maybe he has not, in any event it will take at least four years to find out if his views are in error," he said, considering that a resolution asking the Government to embody rate restrictions on the basis of paying a return on the actual cash invested should be embodied in any contract entered into for the development of Campbell River.

J. O. Cameron believed that it would be unwise for the Associated Boards to pass any resolution which would have a tendency to delay development of the water power. He believed that the Water Board has full power to control rates from month to month or from year to year, as found desirable. He urged the Government to take these rights of control would hereafter prevent stock watering.

RECALLS ATTITUDE This view was warmly protested by Capt. Matheson, who declared that the Government had firmly refused to look at legislative amendments to limit the limitation of earnings to interest on the actual cash invested. On the contrary, the Government had eagerly and insistently stressed the provision of interest on the capital issue of power corporations. "It is our last chance now," he warned.

At this point Mr. Cunliffe recalled that the Boards, last year at Qualicum, recorded emphatic opinions on the matter of power and public utilities, unanimously favoring creation of a public utilities commission by the Government. He suggested that the resolution be reiterated and was accorded a bare majority.

Other resolutions approved by convention yesterday afternoon were: Support to give redefinition and enlargement of the sea area at Crofton as requested by the Duncan Chamber of Commerce and approved by the Provincial Department of Fisheries. This area to be entirely closed to all commercial fishing, except trolling. Submitted by Duncan.

Extension of the close season for steelhead in all rivers flowing to east coast of Vancouver Island from March 1 to December 15, both inclusive. Submitted by Duncan.

The attention of the Fisheries Department be directed to dumping of refuse taken from mud-flats at Qualicum Beach, alleged to be detrimental to fish fry. Duncan sought prohibition of dumping in shallow water.

The close season for river and lake trout in Cowichan district (except Quamichan Lake) be from October 15 to March 25. Submitted by Duncan.

Introduction of brown trout as an experiment into the Cowichan River was supported at the request of Duncan.

Rearing or nursery ponds at Cowichan Lake hatchery, or elsewhere in the locality were favored, with no try to release until one or two years old. A. Duncan motioned.

The convention refused a Duncan resolution that the size limit of trout should be increased to ten inches, eight inches being the limit at present. The convention considered that the present number of two fishery officers is inadequate; also that Crofton should be added to the Cowichan area, and two extra men put on.

Amendment of recent fisheries regulations to permit the taking of ten grilse per diem, or five salmon of any species per person, on the fish boat; also that an immature salmon, either a spring or coho salmon, weighing up to three pounds in the round or two and a half pounds, dressed with the head on, constitutes a "grilse". MOTOR FREIGHT The convention considered introduction of some form of Carriers' Act is necessary for the protection of truck owners and the public, and favored legislation similar to that now effective in Ontario. G. A. Cheeke of Nanaimo spoke to the resolution.

The president was instructed to name a committee to bring forward suggestions for the better protection of game birds and animals from wild vermin, cats, dogs and rats.

DUMPING EVILS The convention believed British Columbia to be suffering through the dumping of cheap fruit, vegetables, eggs and other foodstuffs from the United States into the British Columbia season comes in, and the effect on British Columbia producers to be disastrous, and resolved that the Government be urged to take steps to give relief to the British Columbia producers from this situation, and ordered a copy of the resolution sent to the Canadian Horticultural Society.

CROWDED CARS To the Editor:—I think it is about time the B.C.E.R. put on some extra cars to meet the increased traffic arising from the tourist business. The Esquimalt car is crowded, possibly on account of the beer hall on the route being patronized by visitors from the south; but, anyhow, at busy hours the cars are crowded. It might be well if the company considered their regular customers, and not matter, but to run the cars with more standard than seated every evening is rather strong.

HOPE FOR AN EARLY IMPROVEMENT. C. J. BROWN, 905 Hereward Road, Victoria, West.

A BRAVE EFFORT To the Editor:—There is something I would like to get before the public in the Times will be so courteous as to insert the letter. I refer to the brave attempt of Raymond Sugden to save a life in the Gorge a short time ago. The conditions were exceptional, difficult, and a boy of 14 years, fast currents, eddies, weeds, all would contribute to the difficulty of locating the body soon enough. Also the fact that they did not see the upset canoe accident happen. The happy boy was far down stream before Ray knew he was in the water. Consequently he sank for good before Ray could get to him. He had not stood the repeated effort to try to locate him. Under the conditions it was a man-sized job for a real good swimmer well versed in lifesaving methods, and even then there would be no sure guarantee that the boy could have been located in time to save life. Ray jumped in with clothes on and very heavy boots, which would cut down his speed fifty per cent, and handicap him in every way. He is not a great swimmer, never had any teaching, just about as good as a fish can expect for his age, considering he put it up, so that makes him act all the more brave. He is fifteen, born at Calgary, a quiet unassuming lad, but full of courage. He is not the boy who expects or wants honors, and knows nothing of what I am doing. He is swimming twice a week with me now. I offered to teach him lifesaving methods and improve his main swimming stroke. Although his great try was futile, I think this lad should be recognized in some suitable way, and I believe there will be many in Victoria who will think the same. I suggest the City Council make a move to show this lad we appreciate his noble effort. Failing that, we could present him with some token of our esteem by public subscription. I don't believe this city will be behind. Grants have been made out of city funds to entertain and honor visiting athletes and others. Surely we can honor one of our own boys and make him feel that he is not forgotten. I leave it to someone else to say what the form of recognition should be. But he certainly has been recognized by me. I hope someone else will speak on this and help me put this over. Wake up fellow citizens of Victoria, there is a real hero in your midst, and he is only "just a kid". WM. HOLYOAKE, 538 Niagara Street, Victoria, B.C., July 10.

DISTEMPER IN DOGS To the Editor:—A few years ago The Field set itself to procure funds for the production of a distemper vaccine for dogs and it was confidently assured that if the necessary $25,000 to $125,000 was forthcoming, the beneficial results would begin to show themselves in about three years. The three years having passed further funds have not been forthcoming, and the distemper vaccine is being sold.

It must not be supposed that this is a new method of treating dogs for similar treatment has been tried and rejected for the last twenty-five years. The Distemper Research Council has admitted that "none of the vaccines . . . have been successful in preventing distemper in a long series of cases. They have not stood the test of time, though at the outset the results seemed favorable."

In the face of this declaration the experiments made in the last six years at the Mill Hill Laboratory are now said to have resulted in a "preventive" vaccine. How can it truthfully be said that this latest production has stood the test of time? The distribution of the vaccine has, however, scarcely begun before bad results are being recorded. A few of the late experiences with this vaccine may be of interest to dog lovers.

Nine Alsatian puppies were strong and healthy and were first inoculated when just under three months old, after the second inoculation, four of the animals became very ill and went into convulsions. As their case was considered hopeless they were destroyed later. The remaining puppies were not very ill, but three showed signs of "distemper teeth." The incubation period for distemper, according to the Mill Hill Laboratory, is four days, yet these pups showed no distemper symptoms for three weeks after inoculation, when the attacks were severe. The animals belonged to the Munhall Kennels, owned by a man called Schuster.

Another experience comes from Mrs. O'Brien, who had two foxhound pups and one Alsatian inoculated. After the second inoculation the dogs ran high temperatures for three weeks. The hound was very ill and became stone blind, showing signs of typical distemper. The veterinary in charge said it was one of the worst cases he had ever seen, and the dog was destroyed. Of the other two puppies, one lost condition steadily and showed signs of serious illness, the other fell into a fit two days after the second injection of the vaccine and ran a high temperature, but subsequently recovered.

These brief records serve to show that the powers of this "preventive" vaccine are not proved. Even a possible "disease" in other dogs (which, after all, may never have been likely to suffer from distemper) is poor logic and bad ethics. The claims made for vaccine and serum-therapy generally resolve themselves into money-making schemes, and those who contribute funds for such "research" are paying money to produce much misery for animals.

$250,000 GIFT TO M'MASTER

Cyrus S. Eaton Aids in Removal of University From Toronto to Hamilton

Toronto, July 12.—Cyrus S. Eaton, formerly of Toronto, now of Cleveland, and head of some of the largest steel and gas concerns in the United States, has donated $250,000 to his college, McMaster University, to aid its establishment in Hamilton, on its removal from Toronto. The donation was announced some time ago, but the identity of its donor became known only yesterday. It is understood Mr. Eaton has made other gifts to the university in the past as well as contributing nearly $500,000 to Acadia University, Nova Scotia.

Besides this he has ordered a remodeling of his old home town, Pugh, N.S., and is maintaining a model school there.

Mr. Eaton, after holding jobs in local firms and graduating from McMaster, went to Cleveland, where he entered the ministry. A financier in his congregation invited him to participate in the formation of a gas company. Five years ago he found himself worth $4,000,000.

Officers Named By Canadian Teachers

Quebec, July 12.—G. N. Critchfield, Shawigan Falls, Que., was unanimously elected president of the Canadian Teachers' Federation at the tenth annual conference of that body here yesterday. He succeeds Charles W. Leidlau, Winnipeg.

J. W. Barnett, Edmonton, was unanimously chosen vice-president.

M. J. Caldwell, Regina, was elected secretary-treasurer.

BRIBERY CONVICTION

Los Angeles, July 12.—Harold L. Davis, former chief deputy district attorney, was found guilty of bribery by a jury in Superior Court here yesterday. The charge involved a bribe of $7,500 paid to obtain the acquittal of promoters of the defunct Julian Petroleum Corporation, tried in 1927 on fraud charges.

How to Keep Fit at "Fifty"

No Need Now to Grow Old Simply Through Passing Years. How to Make a Test That Tells

Men and women in this modern age are just as old as their Nerve Force—no older—no younger. You may be old at thirty, or young at fifty or sixty.

Old age and the disease that old age invites stalks in the path of every person past forty, who permits Nerve Force to run low. They are ready victims of Paralysis, Apoplexy, Rheumatism, Kidney and Bladder Trouble, Sciatica and many other dangerous ailments.

Youthful vigor, energy, ambition and power stay with people at any age who keep their nerve force running strong.

In what class are you? Check-up. Then make this simple, easy test:

Every leading druggist in this city now offers, under binding guarantee, a new scientific preparation called Erbac (double strength). Its action is simply on the nerve cells. Its purpose is to build up youth age-resisting nerve force and power. It's not a mere nerve stimulant that latches tired nerves to action, nor a sedative to lull over-wrought nerves to temporary rest. It brings on a six-minute change. You must use Erbac daily for twenty days to expect results. But if you want nerves of steel, the power of youth, and are willing to pay at the rate of ten cents a day for twenty days, and have the courage to make the test, your own druggist will supply you with a twenty days' test of Erbac (double strength) on this guarantee. Use it for twenty days, and then if you do not feel at least ten years younger, and if your ability and endurance have not increased at least 100 per cent, your money will be refunded.

Erbac (double strength) is especially designed for folks past forty. If you have reached that age and want results, make this test without delay.

NOTICE TO READER—Above money-back guarantee is absolutely genuine and legal. Manufacturers are responsible.

Morrison is in the inset, Randall is at the valve of supply ship from which gasoline is delivered through the long hose and, below, Nomis is operating the high-pressure greasing outfit for lubricating the rocker arms. Formerly, it was necessary to climb out to the motor to do this, but Nomis pumps the grease from within the cabin.

MINORITIES TO BE DISCUSSED

British Government Plans to Revive Question at League Council Meeting

London, July 12 (By George Hamilton, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent).—The British Government, it has been learned in well-informed circles, intends to raise the question of treatment of minority petitions at the next meeting of the Council of the League of Nations. The issue held by the new administration should not be regarded as the last chapter in the story.

What form the British representations will take has not yet been decided, but it is likely they will follow the general lines of the minority report presented in 1924, when the Labor Party was last in office in Great Britain.

It was on this question that Senator Raoul Dandurand, Canadian representative, made representations to the Council this year. He wanted the minorities' grievances considered by the whole Council in committee, instead of by a committee of three. At the Madrid meeting, after the proposal had been rejected by a sub-committee, it was merely decided to increase the minorities committee from three to five members.

South Africa Would Lose If An End Put To Trade Preferences

Capetown, S.A., July 12 (Canadian Press Cable Via Reuters).—General regret is expressed in the commercial and farming communities of the Union of South Africa at the British Government's intimation of a move to abolish the system of imperial preferential tariffs. The statement of Right Hon. Philip Snowden, Chancellor of the Exchequer, that such a step was contemplated came as a complete surprise.

The press generally foresees in the withdrawal of preferences a serious blow to the farming communities, especially the fruit farmers.

Chairman Pickstone of the South African Fruit Exchange said the wine, tobacco and dried fruits industries would be chiefly affected by the abolition of the preferences, while the canned fruit industry, which depends entirely on export trade, naturally would suffer.

Mr. Pickstone thought it wrong that the farmers of South Africa should be entirely at the mercy of the British Parliament.

The curtailment of the South African markets in Great Britain, he said, undoubtedly would affect the circulation of money within the Union throughout the fruit season.

BURIAL SERVICE FOR LOST SAILORS

Pembroke, Wales, July 12.—At dusk yesterday the battleship Rodney, flying the flag of the rear-admiral commanding submarine, accompanied by six destroyers, paid the British navy's last respects to the twenty men lost when the submarine H-47 was sunk in St. George's Channel Tuesday morning. Efforts to raise the submarine were abandoned yesterday.

The Rodney and the destroyers were anchored and the crews lined up for the burial services, which were conducted simultaneously by the chaplains of the vessels, while the seamen laid wreaths on the water.

Privy Council Is To Rule On Combines Investigation Act

London, July 12.—The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council yesterday granted the Proprietary Articles Trade Association of Canada and the Attorneys-General of Quebec and Ontario, leave to appeal from the judgment of the Supreme Court of Canada, which rejected a contention that the Combines Investigation Act was ultra vires of the Dominion Parliament.

The Government of Canada, the Amalgamated Builders' Council and the Amalgamated Clothing Industries Council of Canada are contesting the appeal.

L. V. O'Connor of Lindsay, Ont., a commissioner appointed by the Federal Government two years ago, reported that the Proprietary Articles Trade Association was a combine of wholesale and retail manufacturers and distributors of proprietary medicines and toilet articles, and the association then contended the Combines Investigation Act and the section of the Criminal Code dealing with conspiracies and combines were ultra vires the Parliament of Canada. The Supreme Court of Canada last April rejected both contentions.

Albertans Moving To Prevent Unemployment In Months Of Winter

Edmonton, July 12.—A conference on the danger of serious unemployment in this province next winter probably will be held shortly between representatives of the provincial and Federal authorities and municipal representatives. Premier Brownlee yesterday confirmed a report from Ottawa that he had taken steps to initiate such a conference.

I have wired the Dominion Government asking that it become representative to meet with the Provincial Government and municipal authorities to discuss what I think will be a serious unemployment situation next winter, said the Premier.

Charles Stewart and Hon. Peter Heenan are expected to arrive in the province shortly. I have suggested that either or both named to attend the conference.

The telegram was sent to Hon. Robert Forke, with a copy to the Prime Minister. It was dispatched Wednesday.

Co-ops of Canada Elect Officers

Winnipeg, July 12.—W. C. Wood, B.A., of Paris, Ont., yesterday was re-elected to the presidency of the Co-operative Union of Canada at the closing session of the annual Provincial conference, which has met here for the past three days. No changes in the list of officers were recorded and the United Board of the Union was also re-elected.

The election of George Keen, Brantford, Ont., as general secretary, was announced as his twentieth term as executive manager of the national body. He also will continue as secretary and editor of the union's official publication, the Canadian Co-op.

Other officers: President, W. C. Wood, Paris, Ont.; vice-presidents, Alberta, A. P. Mon, Wetaskiwin; British Columbia, Robert Wood, Armstrong; Saskatchewan, H. W. Ketcheson, Davidson.

Deploping the extent of grants to the high school cadet corps throughout the Dominion, the conference passed a resolution, using the Federal Government to transfer use of the one-half million dollars expended each year for cadets to physical training for school students, "under civilian conditions."

A FINE CITIZEN PASSES

IN THE DEATH OF MARK W. GRAHAM, following an illness of only a day's duration, Victoria has lost one of her most useful citizens. The regret which will be felt in all quarters over the loss of one who contributed so much to the welfare of the community will be sharpened by the suddenness of the blow. Two days ago Mr. Graham was as active as usual in his business affairs and in the work of the various organizations with which he was connected. After a busy day on Wednesday he was taken ill in the early hours of yesterday and passed away this morning.

The records of this city hold no finer example of lofty citizenship than that which was furnished by the life of Mr. Graham. He was prominently identified with numerous organizations dedicated to community service. He was the first president and one of the founders of the Kiwanis Club. At the time of his death he was president of the Y.M.C.A. and the Victoria Canadian Club. For years he had been a member of the Jubilee Hospital board. He served for a long time as a director of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce. He was prominent in Masonic circles. To all of these he gave faithful, conscientious service, animated at all times by a high sense of duty. No cause having for its object the promotion of the public welfare or the betterment of humanity ever appealed to him in vain.

He was an able man of business, sagacious, far-sighted, courageous and patient. His successful direction of the laundry establishment with which he became identified when he came here first some seventeen years ago won for him a prominent place in the commercial life of this city, where he was universally respected for his fine integrity, kindness, breadth of mind and genuineness.

To his sorrowing family The Times tenders its most sincere sympathy. For the host of friends who will mourn his passing there will be consolation in the memory of his friendship and his association, with a life that was lived so well; a life that was full of example and inspiration for his fellow-citizens, particularly for the youth of the city, and which in itself was a clarion call to service.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

IN HIS ADDRESS TO THE ROTARY Club yesterday, Mr. H. B. Thomson made the startling statement that Vancouver Island produces only enough butter to satisfy the needs of its 140,000 people for about three days of each year.

It is not necessary to be an expert statistician to figure out how many times this production would have to be multiplied to put the island in a position to meet its own butter requirements. But this statement in itself lends special emphasis to Mr. Thomson's suggestion that "if you are ready and willing intelligently to conjecture the possibilities, it will be a matter of surprise to you all when you realize what can be done for the general benefit of Vancouver Island."

We make no pretence at understanding the fine points of the dairying industry; but we have no reason to doubt the accuracy of Mr. Thomson's statement. It suggests to our lay mind, however, that a better condition—if we may so term it—exists on Vancouver Island which it would be highly profitable to correct, which soon could be corrected if, as Mr. Thomson says, we would talk things over with the farmer.

What a prospect this opens up is best understood by a study of the amount of butter which would have to be produced on Vancouver Island to satisfy its own requirements. The per capita consumption for the whole of Canada is twenty-nine pounds a year; thus for 140,000 people there would have to be an output of 4,060,000 pounds annually, or approximately 11,123 pounds a day. At present, according to Mr. Thomson, we are producing only a little more than 33,000 pounds a year!

There obviously is in this situation something to talk to the farmer about. What applies to butter, moreover, applies to many other commodities which every home on Vancouver Island needs. What are we going to do about it? It is not a bit of use waiting for somebody else to solve our problems. Nor do they seem to be very serious problems. As we already have said, we are not familiar with the fine points of the dairying industry; but we are bound to assume that it would be possible and profitable to increase the dairy herds of Vancouver Island so that instead of producing enough butter for only three days' supply each year, we at least might run it up to six months, and eventually fill the whole bill.

This simple statement of Mr. Thomson's should cause every progressive citizen to think seriously. It has been proved beyond doubt that by more intensive agricultural development Vancouver Island soon would be supporting half a million population. But this will be accomplished only by rural and urban co-operation. Now is the time to make a start.

OUR INDUSTRIAL OUTLOOK

WESTERN INDUSTRIAL PROGRESS IS continuing to show good volume, with a number of new enterprises preparing plans for factory buildings to be located at different points throughout the Prairies and on this Coast. Many of them are branches of important eastern manufacturing plants that have decided western development. necessities closer proximity to production to take care of market requirements.

Many branches of the wholesale trade find the same situation arising calling for new branches in areas where industrial activity has increased. consumption of merchandise, rendering closer service of importance. The western situation is again calling for changes in supply methods in creating territorial competitive areas which have to be cared for within the district. Involved in this change undoubtedly is the opening of natural resources in the mineral areas, the increased settlement of lands, the expansion of clay products, the proposals to treat coal by briquetting and for other purposes, the pending further development of the sodium sulphate industry, the larger areas that are being brought under development in the oil and gas fields, the increased output of lumber and wood products, the building up of farm products in eggs, poultry, butter, honey, hemp, sugar beets, canning products, expansion of high-grade seed, building up of the sheep population, the interest taken in livestock of all kinds, and the general upbuilding of production throughout the west in higher grade products is bringing results profitable to the producer and thus enlarging the market for manufactured articles.

Construction work of all kinds continues to be active and is living up to preliminary estimates of the early months of the year. At most points an increase over last season's operations is being maintained and, with the apparently larger municipal operations and railroad building programme, the situation should continue to be good throughout the building season, the amount of contracts awarded during the first four months of the year in the Prairie Provinces and in this Province being a little less than $50,000,000, with the active construction season only just started. Plans outlined would appear to show a very important programme yet to be contracted for, so that the building trades should be well taken care of, and necessarily building materials and supplies are active industries, the brick and tile industry more especially rapidly expanding.

General trade conditions are keeping up well, and with the tourist season in full swing, together with the summer fairs and various other activities, a continuance is to be looked for. Expansion is such that the retail trade is increasing its volume and the crop outlook so far is nothing to worry about. Altogether, up to the middle of the year, western progress has been along almost entirely satisfactory lines and bids fair to continue in that way.

A PUBLIC UTILITIES COMMISSION

THE ASSOCIATED BOARDS OF TRADE is on sound ground in its advocacy of a Public Utilities Commission for British Columbia. This is not to suggest, however, that the Water Board—a department of the public service of the Province which at present is clothed with some of the powers which a Public Utilities Commission would possess—is not discharging its duties efficiently. But power and other developments in British Columbia are going ahead at such a pace that there already is ample justification for the creation of a body such as that proposed, a body which would not be answerable to any one Minister of the Crown, but one which would be far removed from all influences which at times might be inimical to the public interest.

It is not necessary to point out, of course, that no development can take place without capital, and that natural resources are of no use to the people while they lie dormant; but it always must be remembered that they are just as much the property of the people in their developed state as they are in their undeveloped state. On this account it is desirable that there should be a competent authority capable at all times of holding the balance evenly between corporations to whom these natural resources may be leased for development and the consumer who buys the product of that development. Within the next ten or twenty years the production of energy in British Columbia will be greatly increased, and this prospect alone demands that there shall be this Public Utilities Commission to supervise and control the relations between buyer and seller.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

IT WORKS BOTH WAYS
The Christian Science Monitor

Motorists who protest that there is no beauty in the towering billboards by the roadside and who would take steps to bring about their removal should protect the beauty in the wild flowers of the roadside and take steps to prevent their removal. It's a poor rule that does not work both ways.

MUSSOLINI IS NEEDED IN STA
The Calgary Herald

Mussolini's merciless campaign against the Mafia during the last two years has stamped out one of the most notorious criminal organizations in the world. His success has led many American newspapers to inquire why similar achievement is not possible against the underworld which has been terrorizing Chicago for many years. They claim that the vigilant and strenuous methods of the Italian dictator, if applied fearlessly, would soon terminate gangster rule there and in other American cities.

AN UNCIVILIZED PRACTICE
The Toronto Star

The nations that have ratified the treaty against the use of poisonous and asphyxiating gases or signified their intention to do so are Britain, Australia, Canada, the Irish Free State, New Zealand, South Africa, Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, Poland, Russia, Yugoslavia, Rumania, Turkey, Liberia, Egypt and Venezuela. The United States does not appear to have become a party to the treaty, her name not being included in the semi-official list supplied by the League of Nations.

The world has renounced war, but the psychology of the war period still plagues humanity. A new orientation of thought has yet to take place. The weapons that men use to carry on wholesale killing, whether mines from below, bombs from above, liquid fire, poisonous gases, 42-centimetre guns, machine guns or deadly microbes, matter but little. Not weapons but war itself is the hateful, uncivilized thing that men should put away from themselves forever.

Loose Ends

The American tourist gives up flivvers, goats and adventuring in favor of limousines, plus fours and respectability—and what a falling off is here—for few of the old, hardy race are left—and Europe has its troubles, too, with the new rage for Nudism.

By H. B. W.

IT IS an unworthy thought, of course, and not to be commended in these days of striving after international amity, but just the same I think I see in the 'hordes of American visitors to our island paradise this year a certain falling-off in the hardness of the race which fronts our border of 3,000 miles. This is uttered not in criticism but as a solemn warning to our neighbors and ourselves. Think back a few years and you will realize what I mean. Less than a decade ago the American tourists came here in small, inexpensive cars. Their entire family furniture, including sometimes the kitchen stove, seemed to be tied in some miraculous fashion to those much-enduring flivvers. Frequently the family cat was along, too. A milk goat fastened to the running-board was not unknown; doubtless some of the visitors carried a swarm of bees, too, so that they would be sure of finding a land of milk and honey. For this adventure those hardy pathfinders were clothed in sensible overalls, their wives wore billowy riding breeches and the sensible high-heel shoe for tramping, and the wide world was their resting place. Wherever they happened to be at dusk they made their camp, equipped with all the conveniences of home. They were the vikings of our century.

SOME VAST change has come over the American race. No longer does it travel in a flivver. The kitchen stove no more adorns its running-board. The goat, if any, is left at home. Instead, the tourist glides into town in a huge car which we have never seen before. If he carries any baggage at all, it is locked discreetly out of sight in a leather-covered trunk. Overalls he has changed to plus-fours, and his wife might have just stepped off upper Fifth Avenue. And he wants a double room with bath. What is the cause of this remarkable phenomenon? Some say it is just another evidence of America's boundless prosperity. Let us hope so. Let us hope I am wrong in the haunting fear that the good old pioneer stock which carved civilization out of the American wilderness is disappearing, that a breed less hardy is replacing it and that mere motoring has taken the place of glorious adventuring in the ancient flivver days.

JUST AS this column was recording these morbid fears, there arrived in town two strangers who entirely dispelled them. Not of the effete rich were they. Rich they may have been, under their rough exterior, but effete they could never be. In place of the plus-fours of the ordinary tourist, the gentleman was clothed in blue overalls, cowpuncher's boots, one of those ten-gallon hats you see in the movies, and to complete the havoc a brilliantly-striped red blazer which only English college students generally wear. You couldn't tell whether he came off the ranges of Montana or from the lecture halls of Oxford. His wife was attired in a grey costume, like an enlargement of what are known to the very young as creepers. She also wore a cowboy hat, which would have contained forty gallons easily (or four times as much as the ordinary gasoline tank) and, of course, serviceable transparent silk stockings and high-heel shoes which you must have for rough walking. Evidently some of the good old American strain is left, after all, though vitiated, I fear, by English blazers and French stockings.

APPROPRIATE IN these, the dog days, when the weather is warm, is the controversy now shaking Europe, concerning the merits of the cult of Nudism. Made in Germany, this interesting custom has spread to France and promises to conquer a large part of the world. De-

KIRK'S WELLINGTON COAL

"Does Last Longer"

votes of the cult must live in a state of complete nudity, although we are told that there are a few partial, or low-church Nudists, who hold out for some slight adornment such as a straw hat in the sun. So interested is Europe in Nudism, described as "a mulligan stew of vegetarianism, physical culture and pagan worship," that even Rev. William Ralph Inge, the Gloomy Dean, descending from the realm of metaphysics to take cognizance of it, uttered this profound opinion: "There is nothing objectionable in it, but it is a matter of convention." To this weighty judgment, the Dean, growing cheerful, added a limerick which, though shaky in rhythm, must be respectable, considering its source. It ran thus:

Half an inch, half an inch shorter,
The same skirts for mother and for daughter;
When the wind blows, everything shows,
Both what should and what hadn't oughter.

IN FRANCE the Nudist movement felt it was well on the way to a national conquest when M. Andre de Fouquieres, arbiter of fashion, great-grandson of Chevalier de Groisellez, once noble governor of Flanders, announced that he had joined the Nudists' committee of action and was an enthusiastic apostle of the cult—M. Andre de Fouquieres, the best-dressed man in Europe, whose taste in clothes is the inspiration and despair of the best tailors everywhere.

BUT JUST as the movement seemed to be sweeping the continent, a French newspaper reporter visited the Nudist colony on an island in the Seine, near Paris. He told the truth about what he saw and so disillusioning was his account of the "flabby spectacle" that the romantic people of France were appalled, not on grounds of morality, of course, but on grounds of pure aestheticism. Europe has found what some people have long suspected, that civilization has made the human form beautiful only when well covered up. Anyone who has visited a modern bathing beach and seen the grisly secrets there revealed could have foretold that the cult of Nudity could never succeed in our time.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

The Victoria Daily Times, July 12, 1904

The Rhodes scholarship for British Columbia in Oxford University has been assigned to A. W. Donaldson of Vancouver.

Mr. Albert T. Goward, the popular manager of the Victoria branch of the British Columbia Electric Railway Company, and Miss Fanny T. Clarkson, daughter of the late Rev. W. Clarkson of Bristol, England, were united in wedlock at Christ Church Cathedral this afternoon.

The city has acquired a considerable part of the area lying between Curtis Point, or rather the road that leads to it, and the Gorge, and has secured an option on the remainder, which amounts to about four acres.

Weather Forecast—Victoria and Vicinity—Decreasing winds, chiefly westerly, cooler, fine to-day and Wednesday.

On Saturday afternoon the next scheduled lacrosse game will be played with Vancouver at the Caledonia grounds.

R.M.S. Empress of India reached Victoria from the Far East this morning on her sixty-seventh homeward voyage. A very large number of passengers arrived from the Far East.

STAGE FLOWER SHOW OUTSIDE

Crystal Garden Grounds Make Natural Setting For Exhibits

The sixth annual summer show of the Victoria Horticultural Society will be held on Friday and Saturday of next week. A new departure is being made this year in the decision to stage an open air event.

By the courtesy of the C.P.R. this will be held in the grounds of the Empress Hotel. An excellent natural setting which these beautiful grounds afford should greatly enhance the annual exhibition, although it is generally recognized that the present season is somewhat backward, patrons to the show will see just what can be produced here in Victoria, if one is possessed of a little determination and willing to put in just a little extra amount of labor. What is likely to be the most attractive display in itself will be the section devoted to sweet peas. There are sufficient classes from which will permit any growers of sweet peas to make an entry, from a bowl which cares for the smallest number to the more ambitious grower, who has to arrange twelve named varieties, for which the Mayor's trophy, as honorary president, is given.

Included in this section is a class for ladies only, which should prove very popular and be successful in lifting the silverware given by Geo. Little. It is expected to also have a number of exhibits in the rose section, which the show has been somewhat late for in other years. Classes from bowls to twelve named varieties permit any rose grower to exhibit. In addition to the commercial prize from Layritz Nurseries for the larger class, what should prove a popular entry is the one for six varieties, and the prizes are looked after by the Sprott-Shaw Business Institute. Anyone interested is advised to get in prize plants from any floral store or from the secretary, F. F. Boulter, 538 Obed Avenue, telephone 7822X1.

NEW YORK-ALASKA AIR LINE SOON

Plane Service Being Arranged
Will Link Far North and East of Continent

New York, July 12.—The United Aircraft and Transport Corporation and affiliated companies have announced formulated plans for an all-air system of passenger travel from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

The new coast-to-coast system, which is expected to be formally opened October 1, will be approximately 3,000 miles in length from New York to San Francisco, all but 4-5 miles of which is now open to passenger travel.

The route from Cleveland to New York will be completed as soon as a New York air terminus has been selected.

The elapsed flying time from coast to coast will be about thirty hours.

The United Company is making survey flights for a new passenger line from Seattle to Juneau, Alaska, which when completed will give an air passenger line from Alaska to New York by way of San Francisco.

The New York-to-San Francisco route by way of Chicago will be over a 2,000-mile lighted airway, over which passenger planes will fly both day and night.

BOEINGS JOIN SERVICE
Associated with the United in the plan are the Boeing Aircraft Company, the Boeing Aircraft Transport, the Chance-Vought Aircraft Company, the Pratt and Whitney Aircraft Engine Company and the Stout Air Lines.

Man of Future Ages Is Due to Be Taller and Healthier

By DR. MORRIS FISHER

The estimates of the geologists to the effect that mankind has been in this world some hundred thousands of years have always seemed to the public somewhat humorous.

Those who are fundamentalists insist that the biblical account records the actual status of affairs. Of course, there is good evidence to the effect that man as we now know him has been in the world many thousands of years beyond the biblical accounts and that the evidence regarding prehistoric man fully justifies the claims of the anthropologists and ethnologists.

In a recent consideration of the man of the future, Professor Alex Hrdlicka predicts a human being 100,000 years from now who will differ greatly from the type of man we know to-day.

In the first place, there is a continuing tendency to the disappearance of the hair from the surface of the body; next, the modern sophisticated food and the conditions of civilization tend to throw less burden on the digestive tract, so that it seems reasonable to predict that mankind in the future will lose entirely his appendix which now gives him a considerable amount of trouble; that he will have a much shorter intestine than the thirty feet which now becomes subject to colitis, stasis, obstructions and numerous other disturbances, because of its innumerable curves and kinks; that he will probably be a taller human being than we now have, because of exercise and outdoor life stimulate the growth of the long bones.

On the other hand, there is no reason to believe that he will develop into a giant similar to the gigantic types recorded in such legends as "Jack and the Beanstalk." One of the pleasures of science is the possibility of philosophizing as to the trend of the human body in relationship to the growth of human knowledge.

These things seem to the average man to be of but little concern to him personally. Nevertheless, there is already evidence to indicate that the girls entering colleges to-day are two inches more in height than did those entering colleges twenty years ago, and seven pounds more in weight. If this much progress could be achieved in a period of twenty years, the possibilities for the future do not seem so far away.

Operating on somewhat the same principle as a pedometer, a wrist watch winds itself while it is being worn. This is accomplished by a weighted segment that moves on a pivot about the circumference of the works.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

CHILD AFRAID TO SLEEP IN OWN BED

Mrs. E. R. writes: "My little daughter and I read your column with great interest. I would like to ask you a few questions. Is it harmful for a child of six to swing? How long would you consider that a child swing without injury? Could you tell me how to train her to sleep alone? She slept alone until she was four, then the winter she kicked the covers off so that I took her in my bed. Since that time I have been able to get her to sleep alone. She is very nervous and is afraid. She really tries hard, but just can't make it. I have put her bed beside mine and held her hand. She can't stand a light, not even the tiniest one, for she is used to going to bed in the dark. She has her own room and juvenile furniture, and own linen, everything to make her comfortable.

ANSWER: Do you think it thoroughly advisable to let the child read the articles about behavior difficulties of other children? These are a wonderful suggestion which she may act upon some day. The column is for mothers, not for children. I don't believe I would. Just tactfully omit it.

Swinging shouldn't be harmful in any sense of the word, but the activity shouldn't be carried on to the exclusion of other and different types of action. Don't forbid it, for that would only increase the child's desire to swing. If you think she is swinging too long (an hour might be a limit set), suggest some other things she might enjoy doing.

The sleeping situation is a usual one. Dr. Tom, in his "Everyday Problems of the Everyday Child," says that even with the best of all children, sometime during the pre-school period will show evidence of fear of the dark. It is really not the darkness that they fear, but of what may happen to them in the dark. He also says "Being tolerant does not mean giving in to the child's demands for light or companionship, or perhaps attention, for this in itself would confirm the child's belief in the existing danger. Children very apt to accept such concessions as evidences of real danger. Fear should be dispelled at the earliest possible moment by reassurance, which parents can give by reasoning with the child, and by giving him evidence that his imagination has played a trick on him. Patience and consideration, with a kindly and confident attitude, will do a great deal to eradicate the early fears."

Instead of allowing the child to come into your bed, I should insist that she stay in her own bed, even if for the time being in your room. Assure her, and talk over with her, the impossibility of there being any danger to her. Give her a flashlight. This will help dispel her fears by making an instant light available, but let her feel your confidence in her ability to get over this if she will make necessary effort.

NANCY PAGE

BLACK IS ALWAYS GOOD FOR COATS AND HATS

By Florence La Gasse

Lois wanted to be all dressed up to greet Nancy when she returned. Roger had just had a raise in salary because of a successful sale he had engineered and celebrated by giving Lois a check. She said she could use it to good advantage, but she did think the check representing an advance had better go into the savings fund. "We managed on your salary before and we ought to be able to do it now. That's an easy thing to say, but difficult to live up to, as they found to their surprise."

But the check bought Lois a new coat and two new hats. Her first was of Ballinbunt straw, close-fitting, with wing effect at sides. This is the new spring note. The trimming was of heavy grosgrain ribbon which has come in as a spring coat effective trimming for spring hats.

Her coat was of black. Lois had learned that a black coat was the smartest of all coats. It went with any frock of any color and gave a dignified and well-bred air to its wearer. Her coat had three tiny close-fitting capes over the shoulders and a straight collar of ermine which tied after it had stood up around the neck to form a collar. Her hat was black, small and turban-like in shape. It gave her head a close-fitted look which was just the thing with the coat she had chosen. That had sleek lines and was complemented by the hat. The whole effect was good. Lois noticed that many of the spring coats were using collars and collar ties of velvet in place of fur. And all the furs she saw were sleek and closely trimmed.

ACTUALLY, millions of babies have been successfully reared on Eagle Brand since 1857 when Gail Borden introduced this specially prepared infant food. HEALTH WORK GREAT PROBLEM

Vienna Health Commissioner Addressed Nurses' International Convention

Montreal, July 12.—Economy of human life and health is now the greatest problem in state administration. Dr. Julius Tandler, Health Commissioner of Vienna, told the International Council of Nurses during the course of a paper on the scientific method in social and health work, which he read last night.

Dr. Tandler spoke in German. A second paper on "Civilization and Health" was presented by Dr. J. L. Bibbar, national commissioner of the Canadian Red Cross Society.

Dr. Tandler spoke of organized welfare workers. What the nurse is to the physically or mentally diseased, he said, "the social or welfare worker is to the socially sick."

A clear understanding of social, economic, educational and medical circumstances was necessary.

"A proved state of necessity must be morally presupposed if we desire to keep welfare from degenerating into ill-advised philanthropy and becoming an instrument for breeding paupers," stated Dr. Tandler during the course of his address.

Dr. Tandler also discussed the place of trained nurses in to-day's scheme of things. Medical progress had become the teacher of the nurse. A mere occupation had been transferred into an art.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mr. and Mrs. J. Dennis have returned to their home in Victoria from a trip to Alaska on the S. S. Rupert.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Child, Simcoe Street, have been visiting at Nanos Bay as the guests of Mr. F. G. Claudet.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor P. Alleyne, nee Wace, have returned to Victoria from a motor trip on the mainland and are resident on Rockland Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. George Stairs Brown returned to their home in Portland, Oregon, on Thursday, after spending two weeks' holiday in Victoria with Mrs. R. Blandy, 2800 Somers Drive, Oak Bay.

Mr. and Mrs. William McHugh have returned to their home in Victoria after visiting at Maple Hollow Ranch, Nanos Bay, as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Russell.

Miss Winnie Redfern, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Cecil J. Ford, Government Street, left last evening for Agassiz, where they will spend the week-end with their sister, Mrs. Robert. Continuing on to Edmonton, Miss Redfern will be married there on Tuesday next to Mr. George Hardy, formerly of Victoria, and now of Rimby, Alberta, where they will make their home. Miss Redfern is a daughter of the late Mayor C. E. Redfern of Victoria, and Mrs. Redfern, and is well known among the pioneer families of the Province. She was a popular member of the Provincial Civil Service, and has many friends in Victoria. Several delightful showers and entertainments have been held in her honor during the last few weeks, and a large number of friends saw her off last evening.

STRAIGHT ROAD LEAGUE SUCCESS

Only One Member Struck Off the Roll During Nine Years of Ex-thieves' Club

London, July 12.—The League of the Straight Road was founded for the benefit of burglars and pickpockets by Miss Marjorie Evan Thomas nine years ago in London.

At the time Miss Thomas was helping in a Y.M.C.A. just after the war, and there she met a burglar who had been successful as a soldier, but found it extremely difficult to obtain a civilian appointment. Through him she met his pals, and they decided to form the club, composed of forty or fifty men, all of whom had been in prison.

The first rule of the club is: "A member is expected to respect the law all times that he has the honor of the League of the Straight Road to maintain and defend on all occasions, and he is expected to show the world that he is a man and a sportsman, whatever may happen to him."

Miss Thomas has been very successful in obtaining jobs for her ex-burglar friends. She insists that each one should introduce another and stand surety for him, for she says: "There is no influence like that of the man who has been down and under as a thief when he urges his pals, who used to be with him in the 'whizzing' (pickpocketing) party, to go straight. It is the men themselves who are going to be the strongest force in the country to reduce the criminal population. No one can help them as they can help each other."

She says that during the nine years the club has been in existence there is only one case of a member who made a slip by stealing goods worth twelve shillings, but he has been struck off the roll of the League of the Straight Road. Miss Thomas would like to see similar clubs in every part of this country working in conjunction with the Discharged Prisoners' Aid Society.

SEATTLE WEDDING OF INTEREST HERE

Lt.-Com. N. Pisani, D.S.C., R.N. of Royal Oak and Miss Gladys Fleming of Seattle

A wedding of interest to Victorians took place in Seattle on Wednesday afternoon when Rev. Rowland Edwards united in marriage Gladys Margaret Fleming, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Inglis Fleming of Seattle, and Lieutenant Neville Pisani, D.S.C., R.N. (retired), of Royal Oak, Victoria. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Inglis Fleming, and wore a beautiful gown of oyster chiffon, fashioned in medieval style with a tight-fitting bodice and long sleeves, of white sweet peas, roses and orchids.

She was attended by Miss Phyllis Pisani, who wore a charming frock of deep blue georgette and a large crinoline hat of the same shade trimmed with silver. Her bouquet was of pale pink roses, sweet peas and delphinium.

The best man was Mr. W. M. Sparke of Victoria.

The church had been beautifully decorated by friends of the bride. Following the ceremony a reception was held at 1115 Seventh Avenue West, where the bride's mother, wearing a gown of black lace over oyster satin and a black hat, assisted the bride and groom in receiving. The groom's mother wore a smart gown of silver grey georgette, and a black hat relieved with touches of grey.

The bride and groom left for a motor tour of California, the bride traveling in an ensemble of jade green and white crepe de Chine and a green hat.

MOTHERS AND THEIR CHILDREN

EATING CEREAL

One Mother Says: "I used to have quite a time getting my baby daughter to eat her cereal in the morning. One day when looking through a magazine, I noted the pictures of children eating their cereal, so I cut them out and put them on pasteboard with a prop at the back to make them stand up, and now when she eats her cereal these children eat right along with her. She will talk to them and say that if they don't hurry she will beat them and sometimes when she lags I will remind her that the children want to see her eat her cereal just as they are doing. After a few months of this, Barbara learned to like her cereal and now eats it all up every morning without the aid of the figures." (Copy, 1928, Associated Editors Inc.)

DISCOLORED BRUISES

If ice is rubbed immediately upon bruises the children get in their play, little discoloration follows. The cold keeps the blood from congealing in the sensitive spot and thus prevents it turning black and blue afterwards.

Blouse's Importance

Blouses augment the uses to which summer suits may be put. A black linen suit has three blouses, each giving it an entirely different aspect. One is a sleeveless blouse in red and white checks, for sports; one, a yellow handkerchief linen for country club luncheons and the third, a fine batiste, with matching ecru lace, for dressy affairs.

You can leave a stone in the dishwasher all day

It cannot dissolve . . . it will do nothing . . . but you can depend upon it to "last."

Most soaps are like that . . . hard and "lasting." But this "lasting" quality is deceptive. It means rubbing and rubbing to get suds.

Suds should come quickly and easily . . . as Sunlight suds do. Sunlight is all pure soap. It is purposely made to dissolve freely. No need to rub hard with a bar of Sunlight to get suds . . . and as for leaving Sunlight Soap in the water that's unnecessary—even wasteful.

Yet because Sunlight is all pure soap it is more economical . . . bar for bar it washes more clothes than common soaps.

Do you wonder that millions of women the world over have grown impatient with low quality soaps . . . now use Sunlight . . . and never could be content with any other soap?

Then look for the $5,000 Sunlight Guarantee of Purity. It means real economy—longer life to your clothes—protection to your hands.

Victorian Riflemen Well Up In Service Matches

THE SPORTS MIRROR

The live ball in the major baseball leagues is still of tenuous indication as to something or other will soon be done about it.

I don't "somebody will get killed" in the opinion of some, manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, it is reported.

It is no secret that some of the big outbursts of hitting in the National League recently have given the club owners as well as the fans a headache. Four games one day last week produced a total of 108 hits, an average of twenty-seven per game. For instance the St. Louis Cards ran up twenty-eight hits and twenty-nine runs in one affair, including two ten-run innings.

Comes news from the East that "Big Bill" is still in the top hat there.

Riding like a Trojan, we are told, he won a fifteen-mile individual grudge in Toronto last week with comparative ease against Blondet, the French rider. He is a horse for punishment, is the comment on Torchy's performance.

Here's one that's worth a bulletin any old time. Jack Kearns, who positively forbids his fighters to indulge in the gentle art of fist-fighting, they have signed on the dotted line for a good, big pile, is the central figure.

It appears that Kearns and Charles E. Delaney, a Hollywood motion picture actor, were playing golf together the other day. The exact circumstances leading up to the affair are not clear, but it appears that Kearns landed forcibly on Delaney's nose without even hesitating to ask a guarantee.

Mr. Delaney sparred gingerly and replied with a right to the eye. The battle was ended in the first round, a broken nose and a black eye being the chief damage. My goodness! All that fighting and not a red cent for it.

Soccer fans in and around this corner of the Dominion heard apenty about the Welsh football team on their recent visit.

Whatever their showing was, however, it must be remembered they played sixteen games in thirty-two days during the tour and the score sheet favored them in every one. Perhaps there was a reason for the "old fear" which the Montreal Star says some of the players possessed as they sailed aboard the Duchess of Bedford for home.

Jack Quinn, veteran pitcher of the Athletics, was a star back in 1908 when he won four out of sixteen games for the Richmond Club of the Virginia League. The other two games were tied.

They're always doing something new to pull in the dollar on the other side of the line. The latest innovation, it seems, is an adaptation of soccer, or rather a combination of soccer and "five-a-side" to be played in the door court instead of an outdoor pitch. Madison Square Garden buildings in New York and Boston are to be scenes for the new game next January and February.

Little Bright Eyes throws out the suggestion that some of the smart boxing promoters of Victoria might try putting on a affair outdoors. It's a long time since this kind, he says, and during these warm, mellow evenings, a gymnasium which only seats a few hundred isn't the best place to spend one's evenings.

After winning the United States open championship by a margin of twenty-three strokes, Bobby Jones couldn't needs no alibi. He wouldn't have offered to win it if he had lost. It is that kind of a sportsman. But if he had failed to win the title, the play-off round he could have blamed it on the rain. The rain storm ruined his game in the final round and forced him into a play-off round with Al Espinosa when it was a 100-to-1 shot that the amateur king would be a mile ahead of the field.

Last year the unruly conduct of the gallery cost him a shot. He hit a spectator and that one stroke forced him into a play-off round with Johnny Farrell and Farrell won. And Jones didn't whimper. He never whimpers. There is another fellow who doesn't whimper. He is Walter Hagen. He sometimes talks out of turn as he did in England several years ago when he made some remarks about the lazy British professionals. But he never alibi.

"The most important factor in the development of character is will power. Every boy should make up his mind to develop a decisive unhesitating type of mind."

In the current issue of Delineator, Professor Phelps of Yale, who invited Tunney to speak to his class, quotes the ex-champion as above. May when Gene said that he was thinking of one-eye Connolly.

Tunney goes on to say that "one certain method of developing will is by doing unpleasant and distasteful things merely because of the determination to develop the will."

Anyway, the story goes on to say that Gene deems it "of the greatest importance to be justly confident of yourself." This is a great boost for Jack Sharkey.

Fans Overlook Calgary Kay In Second Out And He Pays Record Win Price of Year

Mutuel Returns on Winner at Kenilworth Track Yesterday Total $374.10 for $2 Straight Tickets; Across the Board He Pays $530 for Longest Price of This Season; M. J. McNulty, Jr., Cops Trigo Handicap at Vancouver.

New York, July 12.—A scattered few of turf's fandom are jubilant because of the victory of Mrs. B. E. Chapman's Calgary Kay at Kenilworth — Canada's current racing metropolis.

And they have reason to be hilarious, for the three-year-old Chapman gelding, running the second race of his career, yesterday hung up a new season's mutual price record, when he paid $374.10 for a $2 win ticket in the Windsor Perry purse—a seven-furlong sprint for three-year-olds. A fortunate fan that played him to run second received $122.50 for each $1 bet placed across the mutual windows, while those holding show tickets profited to the extent of $34.40 for each $2 invested.

While a high mark for this year, the price falls to anywhere near equal the U.S. record of $1,885.50 paid the backers of Whirling Ring for a $2 win ticket at Latonia, June 17, 1912.

FAVORITE WINS
Following upon the announced policy of the Ranocas stable to permit its star rider, Laverne Fator, to accept only leading outside mounts, yesterday's feature at Empire City, the Arrow claiming stakes, found the stable's leading jockey astride B. Block's four-year-old Mordine. Fator brought the Block colors home in front of the field at odds of 11 to 5. M. J. McNulty, Jr. was second and Click, E. M. Byer's high-time colt, third. Mordine was paired with Mordom, another son of the famous Morvich, but Mordom was the star of the afternoon performance and his mount from the rise of the barrier.

LIKES HEAVY GOING
With the Le Mar stock farm's Miss-step showing a decided dislike for heavy going, H. T. Archibald's five-year-old Crystal Domino easily won the Sheridan Drive handicap at Arlington Park, Essare, from the Jacques stable, was second over the six-furlong ribbon for three-year-olds and up, with Wydom, from the R. S. Clark string, taking down third. Miss-step, an outstanding candidate for yearly handicap honors, was able to improve his fourth position standing, finishing a head back of Wisdom. Crystal Domino's win was worth $12.69 for $2 investment by his backers.

THREE WINNERS EACH
Reno, Nevada, July 12.—Adolph Benoit and Joe Dyer, the former an apprentice, were the stars of the afternoon performance at the Silver State Jockey Club meeting yesterday. Each rode three winners. Benoit, the favorite, then he came back on Helen Test in the fourth, which paid $14.20, and topped the afternoon by steering Jasonetti across the line, a nose winner over No. Hampshire, a 7 to 1 first choice in the seventh race, the feature. The winner paid $14.20.

As to Dyer, his first appearance in the public eye, which took the second event, Harold Adams won on Supporter in the sixth, while Paul Shmitta romped home with Snowbound in the third.

FAVORITE WINS
Fort Miami Track, Toledo, July 12.—A favorite went over in the first race in last night's program at Fort Miami track, when Petro Guy, driven by Seppala, won all three heats of the $2,000 race for three-year-olds. His best time was 2:07.

MEETING HALTED
Cleveland, July 12.—Threatened with wholesale arrests of employees and confiscation of property, operators of Thielstedt track temporarily gave up their first attempt in three years, to hold a running race meet yesterday in the face of Sheriff L. J. Harvath's determination to suppress betting.

As the sheriff marshaled a force of twenty-five regulars and special deputies, armed them with tear gas bombs and saved off shotguns and instructed them to demolish the one-day-old meet was suspended until three men arrested as the result of the use of our "hot air" system of betting are given hearings on charges of gambling.

Vancouver, July 12.—Overlooked in the betting when he was allowed to start at nearly 9 to 1, M. J. McNulty Jr., five-year-old gelding from the Ranocas stable, again scored the best of his class in the Trigo Handicap, feature of yesterday afternoon at Brighouse, when he won by a length over the heavily played Blimpy. Pat was third.

McNulty was taken to the front by Jockey Hughes coming down the stretch and was just able to hold off the challenge of his favorite. The winner paid $12.26 straight, $5.35 place and $3.45 show.

Outsiders figured in the money in many events and double figures were returned.
First race—Six furlongs: 1. Zircon, $13.90, $7.10, $3.60; 2. Boy Friend, $27.60, $24.65; 3. Thelma, $2.10.
Second race—Five furlongs: 1. Miss Emmert, $7.00, $4.30, $2.90; 2. Sequan, $7.00, $4.30; 3. Cap and Gown, $6.10.
Third race—Four and half furlongs: 1. Little Pat, $5.80, $4.40, $3.00; 2. Silk Train, $55.60, $11.30; 3. Red Plume, $3.20.
Fourth race—Six furlongs: 1. Moonchild, $24.75, $8.30, $5.50; 2. Nannette, $5.30, $4.70; 3. Rochester's Miss, $5.30.
Fifth race—Six furlongs: 1. M. J. McNulty Jr., $19.20, $4.30, $3.40; 2. Blimpy, $3.40, $3.00; 3. Pat, $3.10.
Sixth race—Mile and seventy yards: 1. Golden Glen, $5.30, $4.30, $3.20; 2. Ethel F., $3.70, $3.00; 3. Wee Girl, $4.50.
Seventh race—Fifty and seventy yards: 1. Pippin, $12.60, $7.40, $3.80; 2. Shasta, $5.80, $3.50; 3. Vibrator, $3.30.

Amateur Catches "Old Man Par" On Jasper Course

Jasper Park Lodge, Alta., July 12.—For the first time in its history, an amateur has played the famous Jasper Park Lodge golf course in par. The triumph belongs to B. Tait of Pasadena, Cal., who is one of the most noted golf families of Scotland. Mr. Tait is vice-president of the Annandale Club, and is in charge of the course. Par of the Jasper golf course, when the Canadian amateur championships will be played next month, is 70. Lying amid the Rockies it is 4,555 yards of sport and beauty, and is in fact renowned as the finest course in Canada.

RING VETERAN OF CANADA ENDS BOXING CAREER

Soldier Jones, Toronto, battle-scarred veteran of many hectic fights and one-time holder of the Canadian heavyweight championship, has quit the ring for all time, he has announced. He has won more than 250 bouts waged in prize rings from Paris to Brazil.

Ryall and Shields Engage Leeming Girls Forge Ahead at Kelowna and Portland In Endurance Tennis Test

After Twenty-three-hour Motor Drive, Play Three Straight Matches

Hope Leeming Reaches Women's Final of Interior Tourney By Easy Win

Kelowna, July 12.—Fresh from the north sectional tournament at Portland, Ryall and Shields, of Vancouver, arrived Thursday afternoon in time to breeze through their matches in the open singles and doubles for the interior titles. Ryall apparently felt the strain of the continuous drive from the Oregon City, as he was apparently tired in his final match of the day with Logie, Kelowna club titleholder, but managed to win in straight sets, 6-2, 7-5.

Shields disposed of Dreyfus, Vancouver, 6-3, 6-3, and then went on with Ryall to win their doubles match from Lutener and McNichol, Penticton, 6-3, 6-3. Shields's match with Cornwell, Kamloops, in the singles, was postponed until to-day.

Ryall and Shields drove for twenty-three hours from Portland without stopping prior to playing the matches.

MISS RITHEAT PLAYS WELL
The best match of the tournament was staged between Miss Allison King, defending champion, and Miss Ethel Victoria, in the semi-finals. The Victoria girl played excellent tennis and took advantage of her opponent's errors to take the first set 6-4, and looked like taking the match, but Miss King staged a rally to win the second 8-6, and went on to take the match with a 6-3 win in the third and deciding set.

CHAMPIONS SAFE
Defending champions are all represented in the semi-finals to-day. Ryall, singles titleholder; Miss Allison King, ladies' open champion; Langille and Nordstrom, Seattle, and Miss Strauss in the doubles, have worked their way to the pre-final event. The Misses Miller and Jackson, Victoria, are not defending their title and new champions will be crowned in the women's doubles to-morrow, when the finals take place.

Abe Mitchell Wins Play-off In Irish Golf

Port Marnock, Ireland, July 12.—Abe Mitchell won the Irish open golf championship in a play-off to-day of yesterday's triple tie with a score of 150 to 152 for Archie Compton and 160 for Len Holland. The 36-hole play-off was made necessary when this trio had scores of 309 for the 72 holes of the regular competition.

Tom Renout of Manchester was fourth with 310; W. Davies, Wallace, fifth with 311; Herbert Jolly sixth with 313, and Ray Barber of Cavendish seventh, another stroke behind.

Play Exhibition Cricket Match
An exhibition cricket match between a combined team of the Five C's and Albions and the British Public Schools eleven will be played to-morrow at Beacon Hill Park, commencing at 2:30 o'clock. No league fixtures are scheduled.

Marjorie Leeming in Semi-finals of Oregon State Contest

Several Other Local Net Players Still in the Running

Portland, July 12.—Only four men and four women remained in the race for Oregon State singles tennis titles when the last ball had been served on the Multnomah Club courts yesterday. The four men were Ray Casey, San Francisco southpaw; Kurt Berndt, Casey's fellow townsman; Jerry Bartholomew of Los Angeles, and Bob Johnson, Portland junior star.

The women were Marjorie MacFarlane, ex-New Zealand champion; Dorothy Weisel, Californian and national girls' club champion; Marjorie Leeming, Victoria star, and Miss Golda Meyer Gross, defending titleholder, from San Francisco.

CASEY WINS
Ray Casey, seeded No. 1, encountered his most serious competition of the meet so far in his quarter-final opponent, Harry L. Plymire. Although Plymire took only four games in two sets, losing 2-6, 2-6, he made his brother Californian use every trick he knew. Plymire, seeded No. 3, so his defeat left only two seeded players, Casey at No. 1 and Berndt at No. 2, remaining in the meet.

Berndt advanced by defeating Driscoll, his doubles partner, 7-5, 6-3. Jerry Bartholomew eliminated Dick Goldthwaite, Portland, 6-0, 6-1.

Bob Johnson, Portland, plays Casey to-day. Johnson has played only one match in the event so far, eliminating A. B. Dorey in the first round. In the second he advanced on a default by Bert Cole, in the third on a default by Jimmy Johnson and yesterday on a default by Herb Suhr.

WOMEN'S SEMI-FINALS
The women's matches to-day give promise of exciting tennis, since Marjorie MacFarlane plays Dorothy Weisel and Marjorie Leeming plays Miss Gross. On Wednesday Ross Hocking of Victoria lost a hard-fought singles match to Herbert Suhr 8-6, 6-6, 6-2.

Mona Miller, Victoria, after being eliminated in the singles, went down to defeat in the mixed doubles with Perry Lewis, before Marjorie MacFarlane and Isaac, Victoria, 6-1, 6-4.

Regan and Collings Put Up Good Scores For Donegal Trophy

Out of Possible 35, Regan Gets 32, Collings 31 and Fyvie 30 as Canadian Contingent Begins Its First Heavy Shooting in Empire Meet To-day; Blazing Sun Makes Things Hot for Riflemen; Bisley Record Is Equalled.

Bisley Camp, Eng., July 12 (Canadian Press Cable).—The Canadian marksmen to-day began their first heavy shooting in the National Rifle Association's great Empire meet competition in two big service rifle events to-day, putting the finishing touches on their preparation for the intensive shooting of next week.

A blazing sun shone from a cloudless sky and it was decidedly warm when the thousands of army marksmen turned out to-day to shoot in the Donegal and Conan Doyle service rifle matches, at 200 yards, 400 yards and 500 yards.

ALBIE DAVIES IS IMPRESSIVE IN WORKOUTS

Local Fighter Completes Training For Mix With Eddie Graham

Albie Davies made a big impression on the fan who were present at the Tillicum Gymnasium last night to witness the boys in training for to-morrow night's bouts. Albie boxed with brother Jumbo and Danny Pastore, and the boys traveled at top speed from start to finish.

It was quite apparent to the fans that Albie's punches carry more force behind them than they have in past bouts and he seems to have developed into more of a two-handed aggressive type of a fighter. Last night he carried the fight to his opponents from start to finish. His condition appears to be superb as at the finish of the workout he was as fresh as when he started. Davies will go through another workout to-night at the Tillicum Gymnasium at 8 o'clock.

GRAHAM HERE TO-DAY
Eddie Graham, who will oppose the local boy, is due to arrive here this afternoon and will go through a light workout at 7:30 o'clock to-night.

Val Ostrander, a protegee of Jimmy Bishop, has been secured for Buddy Davies in the semi-final. The Seattle boy, it is claimed, is a top-notch performer and has a decision over Wildcat Carter when he was competing for the B.C. championship. He has been fighting for several years and Jumbo will have a tough assignment on his hands.

LIST OF BOUTS
The complete programme of events which will commence at 9 o'clock is as follows:
Four rounds, 160 pounds—Ted Beales, Victoria, versus Tiger Lipscomb, Edmonton.
Four rounds, 130 pounds—Danny Pastore, Victoria, versus Billy Petrie, Vancouver.
Six rounds, 118 pounds—Jumbo Davies, Victoria, versus Val Ostrander, Seattle.
Main event, ten rounds, 126 pounds—Albie Davies, Victoria, versus Eddie Graham, Portland.
Seats are on sale at Two Jacks, The Bull and Richardson's Cigar Store. Soldiers and sailors in uniform will be admitted to the unreserved seats at half price.

WIN HANDICAP TOURNEY
Capt. Massey and Mrs. Hodgkinson were winners of a mixed doubles handicap tournament played on the Colwood courts this week. Six couples took part.

DUSTY MILLER WINS IN SOUTH

Four Down at Halfway Mark, Reaches Semi-finals of Western Golf
Mission Hills, Kansas City, Mo., July 12.—Don Moe, nineteen-year-old college boy from Portland, Ore., continued his sweep toward the western golf championship here to-day by finishing six up on John Lehman, Gary, Ind., former "Big Ten" titleholder, at the end of the first 18 holes of the 36-hole semi-final match.

Kansas City, July 12.—The uphill battle of Don Moe of Portland, Oregon, to gain the semi-final round, and the rise from comparative obscurity of Gilbert Carter of Nevada, Missouri, to fight his way into the semi-finals were outstanding events yesterday in the thirtieth annual Western Amateur Golf tournament.

Four down at the end of the morning 18 holes, to Carey L. Ballew Jr., of Kansas City, the University of Oregon sophomore, was as steady in the afternoon as he was erratic in the morning, and won four holes in a row to end the match on the thirty-third green 16 and 9.

Carter won 2 and 1 from Lawrence Moller of Quincy, Illinois, John Lehman, Gary, Ind., was forced to go to the thirty-sixth green to win one up from A. J. (Gus) Novotny, Chicago.

Art Sweet, Chicago, gained the next to the last round by an overwhelming 8 and 7 victory over H. J. Kaiser of Racine, Wis.

To-day's 36-hole semi-final brings together Moe and Lehman and Sweet and Carter.

The St. Cloud golf course in France is laid out on top of a hill overlooking Paris and the valley of the Seine. Aubrey Boomer scored a 61 there recently.

CADETS STRIKE CAMP AT RODD HILL GROUNDS

Boys Return to Homes After Enjoyable and Helpful Stay Under Canvas

Derive Great Benefit From Exercises; Prize Winners Announced

Tanned and happy after their week in camp, the 600 cadets who were assembled at Rodd Hill struck their tents yesterday and returned to their homes in Victoria, Vancouver and other Mainland and Island points.

The 101st Vancouver School Regiment commenced their breaking up at 11 o'clock in the morning and were brought into town in time to board the afternoon boat for the Mainland, while the local contingents remained on the site until 2 o'clock, when camp was cleared. They came to town in motor transport.

In view of the fact that each boy was given a medical inspection preceding the camp and those unfit for the training were weeded out, the boys lived an exceptionally healthful life. Only one per cent of those who assembled at Rodd Hill were sent back from camp owing to their physical inability to go through the courses there.

INFORMAL TALKS

During the term in camp the boys and instructors were given informal talks by regular army officers and cadet directors of the Province.

Under Captain Whedon, 1116 squads were organized during the camp and competed in a shoot at the close of the term. Vancouver Technical School Corps came first in this contest with a total of 317 points, while the New Westminster Corps finished second, one point below the winners.

In the tent pitching competitions held during the week Cadet Lieutenant Boyden's Vancouver Technical School Corps took first honors, while Cadet Lieutenant Bowyer's team, from the same unit, was second.

The Sixth Company, C. E. Cadets, of North Vancouver, won the tent striking award with the Vancouver Technical Corps, under Clarence St. John, second.

First and three second prizes were given for the best tents in different divisions. Cadet S. M. Anderson of New Westminster, Cadet Lieutenant Munro of Sixth Company, 101st, and Band Sergeant Herring of the band of the latter unit won first prizes, while Corporal Colley of Victoria, Corporal Osburn of the Seventh Company, 101st V.S.C., and

FOUNDER OF KIWANIS CLUB

One of the founders of the Victoria Kiwanis Club, Mr. Graham became its first president when the club charter was granted on Feb. 1, 1922. He remained at the head of the club for two years and ever since was actively identified with the work of the service organization.

Mr. Graham was one of the few citizens of Victoria, including Kenneth Ferguson, Walter Walker, Darrell Spence, Frank Thomas, R. J. Robertson and Harold Digson, who met in the Empress Hotel one evening in the fall of 1919 to discuss the formation of the Kiwanis Club.

CHAMBER DIRECTOR

The Victoria Chamber of Commerce has suffered a very severe loss in the passing of Mr. Graham. For a number of years he was a member of the executive board and his quiet but mature and business-like judgment was always accepted by his fellow members as a safe anchorage for business action, said R. W. Mayhew, vice-president of the Chamber, to-day.

DEATH OF YOUTH

The youth of the city always held a warm spot in the heart of Mr. Graham. There will be many boys here who will keenly feel the departure of a real friend.

Mr. Graham, up to the time of his death was president of the Young Men's Christian Association, having held that office for three years.

Mr. Graham was a director of the Royal Jubilee Hospital Board and for many years served as chairman of the house committee. Mr. Graham held the office of president of the Canadian Club.

He was a man of keen business acumen. When the Victoria Steam Laundry Limited was amalgamated with the New Method Laundry Limited, by W. F. Pinfold and L. D. MacLean three years ago, Mr. Graham sold his interest. His continuance as manager for one year was a business success, but he was insisted upon by Mr. Pinfold, who recognized the ability of Mr. Graham as an organizer.

FINANCIAL BUSINESS

After selling out his interest in the laundry business, Mr. Graham's attention turned his attention to financial matters and became associated with Hugh Allan in a bond and stock office on Fort Street, and more recently he bought a partnership in the B.C. Bond Corporation.

BORN IN ONTARIO

Mr. Graham was born in Sharon, York County, Ont., in 1871 and resided there until he came west in 1891. He had as one of his school mates in the little red school house at Sharon, J. F. Kavanaugh, who is now conspicuous in the financial life of New York as one of the vice-presidents of the Metropolitan Life.

When he first came to the Pacific Coast in 1891 Mr. Graham started in the laundry business in Seattle, a business in which he was prominently identified during the later years in this city.

In 1895 he transferred his activities to California, remaining in that state for three years actively engaged in business.

He subsequently returned to Seattle and in 1913 he came to this city to take over the Victoria Steam Laundry. At the time he took over the control of the plant the company had a deficit of $50,000 and was steadily losing money in its operations. Mr. Graham pulled the organization out of its financial difficulties and had the concern paying dividends before he retired in 1921 to enter the bond and financial business.

He is survived by his widow and one daughter.

The remains are resting at Thomson's Funeral Home. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

According to a Shanghai message the Kwangsi rebels have captured Canton and General Chen Chi-tang is in flight. For other sports items see other pages.

HANG AUTOIST CAUSING DEATH

Severe Penalties Keep Down Auto Fatalities in Abyssinia

In Abyssinia they hang the driver of a motor car which happens to kill any pedestrian, according to George MacCreagh of New York, who passed through Victoria this morning aboard the N.Y.K. liner Shidzuka Maru on his return from Africa and Asia, where he has been for the last six months.

"It is a most sensible law," emphatically declared Mr. MacCreagh this morning, "and one which is strictly enforced over there. The driver is usually hanged the next day, and very seldom are exceptions made to this rule. Of course," he continued, "such things as people being killed by automobiles are very rare, or otherwise, I suppose, that law would never do. The natives, who mostly drive the cars, are apt to be very careless and it seems that the extreme penalty is the only means of making them handle their cars properly," he concluded.

Mr. MacCreagh is a journalist of New York city, who has been gathering copy in Abyssinia, accompanied by his wife. It was his second visit to Africa, having been there two years ago for fourteen months. Living there is not very pleasant, Mr. MacCreagh said, as the climate is hot, and the natives are very difficult to get along with.

GOOD LIST

The Shidzuka brought in an unusually large list of European passengers for a Japanese liner. There were fifteen in the first cabin, seven of whom left the liner here. Those disembarking were E. A. S. Hayward, a retired member of the British Naval Office in Hongkong, en route to England; E. Thompson, a well-known tanner of Toronto, returning home after a business trip to the Orient with his wife and son, and W. Ward, a business man of Shanghai en route to England. Most of these passengers went on to Vancouver aboard the regular steamer this afternoon.

NEW COMPANY FOR VERMONT

St. Albans, Vt., July 12.—Announcement of plans for the formation of a new Vermont corporation to take over the property of the Central Vermont Railway Company after the sale of the property at public auction here July 29 is made by Receiver John W. Redmond. Present plans, Judge Redmond says, call for the creation of an operating company to be known as the Central Vermont Railway Inc. It is not expected, the statement further says, that there will be any bidders at the auction except the principal creditor, the Canadian National Railways. The required legislation has been passed to enable the Canadian National to buy the stocks and bonds of the new company, and if the Central Vermont Railway property is purchased July 29 in behalf of the Canadian National, a company will occupy substantially the same relation to the new company that it has for years occupied in respect of the old Central Vermont Railway Company, that is, the new company will be a subsidiary of the Canadian National Railways.

WILL EXTEND WIRE SERVICE TO VICTORIA

Canadian National Plans to Lay Own Cable From Vancouver to Island Next Year

Want Bigger Offices; May Also Operate Own Broadcasting Station in Victoria

The Canadian National Railways will augment its telegraph service to Victoria and Vancouver Island from the Mainland next year, it was announced this morning by John C. Burkholder, chief engineer for the C.N. telegraph services in Canada, with headquarters at Toronto, who was a visitor in the city for a few hours to-day.

Mr. Burkholder flew over from Vancouver this morning in a Western Canada Airways plane, accompanied by R. B. Steele, transmission engineer. The plane flew at a low altitude so that the two engineers could survey the proposed cable route between Vancouver and Victoria and so prepare a report to be submitted to the head office of the telegraph service in Montreal. The report will be considered by a committee and the plans for the improvement in the service announced before the end of the year. Work on the new service will commence early in 1930, Mr. Burkholder said this morning.

When the new cable is laid between the Mainland and Victoria it will considerably quicken the present telegraph service. All messages over Canadian National lines at the present time come by way of Nanaimo over a leased line and frequently messages pile up at both the Victoria and Vancouver offices when the wires are in use. On the new cable it will be possible to send three or four messages at the one time and the wire will be open at all times for the use of the C.N. telegraph.

ROUTE NOT DECIDED

Although nothing definite has yet been decided regarding the route which the proposed cable will take, Mr. Burkholder said this morning that it is possible it will run from a point near Victoria to the Mainland over a leased line and frequently messages pile up at both the Victoria and Vancouver offices when the wires are in use. On the new cable it will be possible to send three or four messages at the one time and the wire will be open at all times for the use of the C.N. telegraph.

When the proposed cable is in operation it will mean a much increased staff and also larger quarters for the service in Victoria. The engineers visited the C.N. telegraph office on View Street this afternoon and surveyed the premises. It is probable that new quarters as big as the present ones will be required. The plan is to install a complete set of carrier telegraphs when the new cable is laid. Canadian National property in Victoria was considered and in his report Mr. Burkholder will recommend whether the company build an office here or rent quarters, or enlarge the present office in the Union Building.

RADIO STATION HERE

Mr. Burkholder mentioned this morning that the Canadian National Broadcasting station in Victoria within the next year or two, and so connect the whole of Canada from the Pacific to the Pacific, with a chain of stations. Radio telephones, which have met with such success over eastern Canada, staff and also larger quarters for the service in Victoria. The engineers visited the C.N. telegraph office on View Street this afternoon and surveyed the premises. It is probable that new quarters as big as the present ones will be required. The plan is to install a complete set of carrier telegraphs when the new cable is laid. Canadian National property in Victoria was considered and in his report Mr. Burkholder will recommend whether the company build an office here or rent quarters, or enlarge the present office in the Union Building.

BELIEVE IN YOUR LAND IS MESSAGE

Deloss W. Walker of American Broadcasting System Speaks Here

Co-operation Needed in the Northwest and Not "Every Man For Himself"

"Believe in your land. You live in the first land in the world. It is the greatest land God has made."

This was the keynote of an address given by Deloss W. Walker, director of public relations for the American Broadcasting Company, at a joint luncheon meeting of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau directors, tourist-trade group of the Chamber of Commerce and other citizens to-day.

Mr. Walker portrayed the marvelous development of the eastern United States because its people had confidence in their land and backed their confidence with their money and their labor. In this new land, which had hardly passed the pioneer stage, this feeling of confidence and belief was lacking, but was necessary if results were to be achieved, he said.

CIVILIZATION'S MARCH

Civilization started 10,000 years ago in the Orient. Restless it has spread around the world until now it encircled the globe, said Mr. Walker, introducing his subject.

"I am sure our gentlemen will agree that we are living in the finest area in this civilized world," he added. "Had not mankind marched for 10,000 years around the world to finally reach this 'charmed land' of the northwest with its beautiful climate, wonderful situation and advantages of nature, he asked.

"Everyone strived toward the holiday, toward the home and relaxation, the speaker said. That was what the northwest had to offer. But in the east, they did not know anything about it. LET THEM KNOW

"Sunshine Here I Come," could be found on the tongue of even the new boys in the east, but they did not know about Vancouver Island or the northwest.

"People aren't going to know a thing about, naturally," Mr. Walker declared. "Why haven't we been selling this wonderful land faster?"

"Sunshine was God's great gift to man. I will agree with William Jennings Bryan in that. But he has another gift--the clouds," he continued.

It was the people of this more northerly climate who controlled the destinies of the world. Mr. Walker contended. Heat was not conducive to an upstanding race. The Nordic races continually proved themselves supreme.

RAPID PROGRESS

Mr. Walker spoke of the wonderful progress of the present age. Skyscrapers, airplanes, motor cars, and radio made it an era of speed.

Civilization, however, needed organization. Mr. Walker continued. In this new land, the northwestern spirit was rather that of "every man for himself," and there was the mistake. Co-operation was needed in promoting the country.

Extending a vote of thanks to the speaker, H. E. Boorman, the chairman, suggested that only recently Victorians had received the warning from Sir Edmund Spenser, the poet, to progress slowly. Now came Mr. Walker's message of speed. The choice lay between the two.

FISH CRAFT HAD ENGINE BREAKDOWN

One of Several Vessels Seized By Canadian Revenue Officers Pleads Valid Excuse

Engine trouble which had developed at sea and over which he worked all night, only to be picked up by a Canadian revenue cutter just as he was on his way to Ketchikan for permanent repairs, was given by Capt. Bertha Olai Knudsen, master of the May as the reason for the presence of that fish boat in Canadian waters, at the resumption of the case before Mr. Justice Martin in the Admiralty Division of the Exchequer Court this morning.

The May was accompanied by the Puritan, Capt. Barney Sather, and proceeded to Prince Rupert under her own power, after arrest. Capt. Knudsen said a carburetor valve on his thirty horse power engine threatened to stick, and he had run thirty-five miles to Goose Harbor to take down the engine to right the trouble.

TROUBLES COMPLICATED

A broken pressure pump further complicated his worries, by making starting difficult. He had effected temporary repairs, and was just passing out of Goose Island Harbor, in company with the Puritan, when the Malaspina appeared, and her master demanded his papers, continued the witness. The May had five salmon and one halibut on board at the time, and had been interrupted on the fishing grounds by the engine trouble complained of, he concluded.

Robert Burns Fenwick, called by the Crown as a technician, witness on the marine engines, corroborated the statement as to what were the logical steps to take to right the engine trouble. The broken pump, he said, would not have affected the running of the engine once started, but a carburetor valve left to persist, might have led to a serious seizure of the engine and a complete breakdown. He would have taken the same course as the master of the vessel, Fenwick stated in cross-examination.

ARGUMENT TO-DAY

Evidence closed at this point with the presentation of argument in this hearing until this afternoon, when argument may also be presented in the cases of the Jeanette, the We, and the Tacora, other vessels seized by the Puritan on the same voyage.

John H. Aspinall appeared for the Crown, and William Savage for the defence in the four cases. The court rose at noon, to resume at 2:15 this afternoon.

KAN ON REEF

Bertel H. Jensen, master of the We was on the stand in the afternoon sitting of the court yesterday. Capt. Jensen admitted that his vessel had done eight hours steaming after seizure in spite of its bent propeller, but claimed he was in doubt as to the real extent of the damage done when the We ran on a reef near Gander Island, and was in a hurry to beach his ship. At the time she struck the We was 180 miles from Ketchikan, the nearest United States port, 110 miles from Prince Rupert, and seventy miles from Butedale. Her master headed for Goose Island, sixty miles off, to beach the craft.

Oswald Christensen, seaman on the We at that time, corroborated Capt. Jensen. He had been at the wheel when the gasoline fish boat drove hard on a hidden reef and heeled over to the engine and the starboard rail. Cursory examination later showed the bent blade in the propeller, and a leak in the fresh water tank, temporarily stopped with a plug. Jensen ordered Christensen to keep clear of the kelp area for fear of rocks, and to steer for Goose Island. At that place the arrest of the ship followed.

John A. Eastman, master of the vessel Tacora, gave technical evidence as to the prudence of a survey after the We had struck with unknown damage resulting. He had been thirty-two years at sea, sixteen of which he had operated as a ship builder in one capacity or another. Argument in the We case was reserved at the close of evidence. FIVE SCOTTISH OFFICERS GOING TO SARCEE CAMP

Will Take in Military Staff Course After Having Passed Examinations

The militia staff course for western Canada opens at Sarcee Camp, Calgary, on Monday next. Officers from western Canada, as far east as Fort William, will meet and take part in military manoeuvres and exercises calculated to improve officers' efficiency in the intricate duties devolving on brigade and divisional staffs. The mythical troops will be moved around the gridded maps of the Calgary area by the Calgary's budding brass hats, whose duty it will be in the exercises to justify by practical demonstration in the field, the work they have been through during the last seven months' training at various district headquarters.

During the month of October in each year since the Great War, Canada has started a selected number of officers of the rank of captain and over for intensive study by way of lectures and pursuit of many military documents and books, in a course calculated to fit and instruct officers in strategy, tactics, map reading, military law, organization and administration, the use of all arms in battle and intercommunication. This course requires about six months' work at the various local headquarters, followed by examinations. The candidates showing a suitable standard of proficiency are selected by headquarters staff at Ottawa, and allowed to take the final two weeks of practical work, for eastern Canada in Quebec and western Canada at Sarcee, Calgary.

RECORD FOR REGIMENT

Last year the Canadian Scottish Regiment of Victoria was successful in having four candidates complete the course, and this year six candidates completed and were successful in their examination at local headquarters, including the late Major J. H. Gillespie. Five Canadian Scottish officers are leaving to-day for Sarcee Camp to obtain the qualifications that will entitle them to have the letters M.S.C. after their names in the Canadian militia list. The officers are Major P. E. M. Wallis, Capt. V. E. F. Barrie, Capt. Stuart Robertson, Capt. H. M. McGovern and Capt. C. H. O'Halloran, who in his examinations obtained a high mark in strategy. This is an unusual standard of proficiency, and the showing of the Canadian Scottish class in itself is also exceptional in that all candidates passed, when examination, each year generally show a 50 per cent pass only of those taking the course. A further feature is that with the completion this year of the course by the present five candidates will result in all officers in the unit being eligible to take as trainees in the unit of capture as at January 1 of this year, all majors and the O.C. of the regiment, will all have passed this difficult test and be shown in the militia list as M.S.C.'s, a record not duplicated by any other regiment in Canada.

Prior to the outbreak of the war in 1914, the Imperial Government sent Major, later to become General, Lipsett of the 3rd Division to Canada to conduct a course of a similar nature. He held a class for western Canada. In Victoria, attended by the then militia officers, none of whom later held lesser rank than that of colonel, and six became generals. Sir Arthur Currie, a member of the class, became commander of the Canadian corps. This course of lectures was completed in the spring of 1914. After the war, largely at the instigation of Major-General MacNaughton, now chief of the general staff of the Canadian Department of Militia started the present militia staff course, adding the two weeks' practical training to the general curriculum as laid down in the previous work of General Lipsett, supplemented as it was by improvements and lessons learned during the war. Each year the officers of the Canadian permanent force completing their staff college course at Quetta, India, and Camberley, England, bring to the Canadian staff school the very latest lesson sons and training taught at these centres. In addition an Imperial army officer is attached to the schools.

Charged with being drunk in public as a second offence, John Kord was fined $50 in the City Police Court to-day.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

Clement Places Crop At Under 325 Million

Chicago, July 12.—A. M. Clement, Curtis and Co., to-day said: "From telegrams received in the last twenty-four hours covering Western Canadian provinces, I believe a reasonable forecast would be from 310,000,000 to 325,000,000 wheat, which compares with our July 1 forecast of 372,000,000 and against 509,000,000 produced last year."

By Branson, Brown & Co. Ltd.
Winnipeg, July 12.—Wheat: Wheat prices continued their upward trend again to-day and on the extreme bulge prices were from 4 1/2 to 5 cents above last night's close with July showing the greatest gain. At top levels there was considerable wheat coming out by way of liquidation and profit-taking, which caused small reactions but the offerings appeared to be well taken and the market held strong. No export business in Canadian grain could be confirmed, but there was excellent buying by eastern interests, commission houses and locals.

All private condition reports in western Canada continue very bullish with indications that deterioration continues in many important areas. The Pool issued a report to-day giving the condition of the wheat crop in the Prairie provinces as 65 per cent of normal. This is a sharp reduction in the condition from one to two weeks ago.

Worked out on the basis of fair average crops, it indicates a total yield of 860,000,000 bushels. There was practically no precipitation in the west yesterday and, while temperatures were high in Manitoba, moderate in Saskatchewan they were decidedly cool in Alberta with reports of some rain or two points, sufficient to damage corn and potatoes.

The forecast is for cool weather. There was not much interest in cash wheat, all buyers afraid to own anything not deliverable on account of tight position of the July, where it is believed a substantial short interest exists with the Pool masters of the situation.

Canadian mills were interested in No. 4 and American mills were taking small amounts of No. 5. Offerings, while not heavy, were available in small amounts on bids slightly better than current quotations. Milling demand fair.

Holders of cash wheat of the non-deliverable grades are not alarmed as some of them figure on carrying them into new crop, which from present prospects will at no time be burdensome.

Coarse grains: These markets were all strong to-day but there was very little going on outside of some speculative buying, based on general conditions of the new crop throughout the west. Export business in all grains reported as nil.

Branson, Brown & Co. Ltd.
Chicago, July 12.—Wheat: There was little left to be desired in the way of bull news but action of the market was rather disappointing. With the character of the news coming, however, it does not seem likely that prices will be retarded in upward movement. The Canadian pool painted an extremely bullish picture of western Canada conditions, making the average condition 65 per cent of normal and reporting rapid deterioration since July 4. Rains are still generally needed except in a few sections. According to Cromwell, a vast acreage of Saskatchewan is in a state of total failure. Donovan, reporting from Montana, gave a rather bullish view of conditions in that quarter.

Murray reports indicate tremendous deterioration over northwest since July 1, making North Dakota 52 against 75 per cent, Montana 55 per cent against 100 per cent and South Dakota 50 vs. 75 per cent July 1. Foreign news was bullish, with dry weather complaints from both Australia and Argentina and unfavorable labor developments in Argentina ports. Liverpool closed strong. Kansas reported threshing returns disappointing from many counties.

Although the situation is becoming tremendously bullish, with no account taken of possibility of farm board taking an aggressive part in the programme by finding an outlet for Gulf wheat. Think market ultimately will show good advances from this level.

Corn: Favorable weather offset other influences in corn and there was local selling which kept the market under influence of pressure. Developments were favorable to holders.

Cash steady to higher. Country offerings only 15,000 bushels and primary receipts not much smaller than a year ago. Cash sales were 214,000 and with 385,000 bushels late yesterday, made 600,000 bushels for two days. With the generally strong situation

MONTREAL MARKET CONTINUES DULL DESPITE STRENGTH IN WALL STREET

(B.C. Bond Over Leased Montreal Wires)
Montreal, July 12.—Report in New York that a $60,000,000 merger between Consolidated Mining and Smelting and Noranda Mines was under way, was denied to-day by Noranda officials.

Both companies recently announced extensive developments and expansion programmes, and it is believed this was the cause of the merger rumor.

It is the general impression here that, even without an amalgamation, Smelters and Noranda are pretty closely agreed on a policy that would avoid duplication.

CAN BUY CANNERS
Montreal, July 12.—Negotiations between American Can and Canadian Canners Limited in connection with the acquisition by the former of the latter's Simcoe, Ontario, canning and preserving plant have been completed. It was formally announced to-day.

Montreal, July 12.—The market here to-day was again dull, despite the strong market in New York.

A factor in the increased buying in Montreal is the stronger tone that has developed for the stock in London. Current action of this widely held utility stock has been of a satisfactory sort in the light of the prevailing dull market.

It is suggested that nervousness over the economic situation in the Republic, as created by the coffee situation, has pretty well run its course.

Present movements of International Nickel appear dictated entirely by market conditions, for developments of the company are keeping fully abreast with the optimistic expectations on which are based the bullish views on the stock by leading Canadian investors.

Convertible Bonds Rise With Stocks

New York, July 12.—Convertibles raced ahead with stocks in the bond market to-day and several new high prices were recorded. Issues were brought out in the early trading. A few standard rails also advanced on a bit of average buying, giving the general list an appearance of steadiness.

The gains in the convertibles ran as large as five points, the maximum advance being recorded by the American Telephone & Telegraph, which touched the new top price of 165 1/2. Atchafalaya at 144 and Allegheny Corporation 4 1/2. The best demand for convertibles was for American International 5 1/2s, which equalled their previous peak of 111. American I.G. Chemical 5 1/2s moved up nearly point to 100 1/2.

The best demand for convertibles was for Canadian National 4 1/2s and Chicago, Burlington and Quincy 4 1/2s, up a point each, and Big Four 4 1/2s and Green Bay 2 1/2s, up 1 1/2.

Seaboard Airline 6s advanced 3/4, but that company's adjustment 5s sagged.

United States Government securities reacted slightly, the first and fourth Liberty 4 1/2s, now selling near par yielded a negligible fraction after a firm opening.

American Machine and Foundry 6s, Container Corporation 5s and U.S. Rubber 5s were strong points in the industrial section, but their improvement was made good by the firm and foreign bonds ruled firm. But Nan, sitting quietly, with pencil poised over her notebook, did not for a moment believe that it was "decent" of Crawford. He was either being diabolically clever or insolently caddish. If he was really going to run away with Iris Morgan, Bert Crawford would not lose the $20,000 so grandly presented to the man he had used and deceived; he and Iris would have every penny of it, in addition to the $250,000 that Crawford had stolen from the Mid-West Packing Company.

And if he was not going to keep his promise to Iris, was planning to abandon her as he had doubtless abandoned many other women, then this $20,000—a small sum to a man who had $250,000 salted away—was a cad's way of cancelling his love debt. And John Curtis Morgan—blind, trusting, darling that he was—thought Bert Crawford was "mighty decent!"

"I didn't like to throw a damper on the Christmas gayeties yesterday, but the fact is, Jack, that I'm going to shake the dust of this man's town from my heels."

"What?" Morgan exclaimed. "Isn't this a hasty decision, Bert?"

Crawford shook his handsome blond head emphatically. "No, old man, I've been mulling it over since the blow fell. The Mid-West Packing Company is bound to bust. It'll be in the hands of a receiver by the first of the year. And in spite of the fact that I was acquitted, my name won't be any too fragrant in these quarters."

"I'll move on to fresher, greener lands. In fact, I've already sent in my resignation and signed over my stock, whatever it may be worth, to help reimburse the poor devil's who will suffer from Bland's rascality—the small stockholders. I'll make a fresh start somewhere else. So it's good-bye, Jack. No, keep that check! Give it to Iris. Like I told you! Lord man, I'm not a pauper!"

"You're really leaving?" Morgan insisted incredulously. "When?"

"To-day," Crawford answered. "On the 2:45 eastbound. Don't ask me where I'm going, or what my plans are. I don't know myself yet, but I'm keen to get away."

Morgan, still frowning, nodded comprehension if not approval. "Have you told Iris good-bye? This is going to be a blow to her, Bert. She picks a lot of you. I'm not much good at playing around and she loves it. I'm afraid she's going to find life pretty dull for a while . . .

"I'm going to have lunch with her at the Traylor and break the news then," Crawford admitted candidly, his blue eyes flicking a glance of triumph at Nan. She no longer had the power to keep him from seeing Iris Morgan, his mocking eyes reminded her. "But don't you worry about Iris, old boy. She'll bear up under the loss of her playmate too well to suit me. By the way, I'll tell her to meet you at the bank at 2:30, if you're really going to open an account for her with that cheque."

"Thanks, Bert. I wish you would," Morgan agreed, a little stiffly. It was obvious that he was a little hurt at not being included in the luncheon invitation.

"Now," thought Nan, Her narrowed brown eyes trying to probe the tricky mind that lay behind the smiling blue eyes of Bert Crawford, "just what does he mean to do? Is he going to take her with him or not? Would he have had the audacity to come here and say good-bye to her husband if he were taking her? And if he doesn't take her, what will Iris Morgan say and do when she learns that her lover has left her $20,000 as if it were a piece of paper?"

At 2 o'clock, after Nan had returned from an almost unbroken luncheon, Morgan shrugged into his overcoat and announced cheerfully—a little too cheerfully, so that Nan knew he was still hurt: "I'm going to snatch a bite to eat, Nan, and then step over to the bank to meet Mrs. Morgan. If she calls up, tell her I'll be there at a quarter to three."

Nan had to watch him go, unprepared for the shock that might be awaiting him. If, after three, the hour of the bank closed, he came back to the office troubled and bewildered, with news that something must have happened, she knew he had not met him, then she—Nan—would know that it was all over, that Iris had taken the train with Bert Crawford. What would he do, oh what would he do when he learned the truth?

Her fingers were so cold with nervousness that she could not type. An hour to be lived through! Wasn't there some way of annihilating time? Desperate, she invaded the private office where Evans, the clerk, and Blake, the young lawyer on salary, pursued their uninteresting duties.

"Well, what kind of Christmas did you boys have?" she demanded with fictitious cheerfulness. Listening to their lengthy replies, she consumed almost half an hour; three telephone calls providentially disposed of nearly thirty minutes. She was just hanging up the telephone receiver when Morgan's shadow loomed against the glass panel of the door.

She braced herself to meet whatever his beloved face might reveal, but as the door opened she heard Iris's musical, artificial laughter.

"Of course I'll spend it! What is money for, silly old Jack! Hello, there, Nan! You've heard of my sudden wealth, I suppose? And now this stupid old husband of mine wants me to let it lie in the bank, accumulating interest. I've been dying for a trip to New York and now I can take it. . . No, you can't come along, Jack, and if you aren't awfully nice to me I won't come back."

"Oh, don't look at her like that, as if you could kiss her feet!" Nan wanted to scream at Morgan. "Don't you realize that she's warned you?"

CHAPTER XV
On Monday, the ninth of January, the day Iris Morgan had chosen for her departure for New York on what her husband believed to be a short trip, John Curtis Morgan had to appear in court as defence counsel for Lois Downs, a pretty young nurse accused of the murder by poisoning of her patient, a middle-aged chronic invalid whose husband and fortune she was supposed to have coveted.

"If he doesn't come soon I shall have to leave without telling him good-bye, and I'll serve him right!" Iris protested petulantly to Nan for the third or fourth time. "I only have half an hour to make my train. Careful, Curt, lover, you're mashing the pleats in mother's skirt!"

"I wanna go to New York, too," the little boy pleaded. "Mother's explained over and over, sweetheart, that New York's a horrid place, not at all nice for little boys. It's answered cogingly. Nan, stealing a glance at the two, saw the mother's arm tighten convulsively about the thin little body that leaned forlornly against her knees.

"That passes for a heart," Nan admitted grudgingly to herself. "And I hope it hurts her so bad to-night that she can't sleep—running away to New York in a drawing-room that her husband has paid for to join a lover who owes his freedom to her husband. Oh, how can she do it? And how can he love her so much, when she's rotten, rotten! Just because she's beautiful—"

Although she hated Iris Morgan with every throb of her own honest, loyal heart, Nan Carroll had never denied or underestimated the other woman's beauty.

"I'm pretty, too," Nan reflected bitterly. "But do you suppose he knows it? I might as well have a harelip and grey, mouse-colored hair, for all he sees—or cares. But she's leaving him, he may never see her again, after to-day. Her love, audacious with hope, dared whisper in her heart.

"Then shame made her flush scarlet. "No! No! I'm not like that! I'm staying on only because he's going to need a friend so badly. Afterward, when the worst is over, I'll go away. I will, I will!" she reiterated sharply, desperately, stamping upon that treacherous hope until she thought it was dead. But it only slunk into the very depths of her heart and lay down very quietly. . .

"Well, as last! I was just leaving without telling you good-bye." Iris greeted her husband crossly. "There's hardly time to make my train."

"Oh, lots of time, darling," Morgan reassured her. "I'm awfully sorry to be late, but I could hardly ask for an early adjournment. . . Hello Sonny-boy! Know what I'm going to do soon as Mother's on the train?"

"What?" "Well, I'm just leaving without telling you good-bye." Iris greeted her husband crossly. "There's hardly time to make my train."

Future Physician Was Suspected of Mischief

William Oser's teacher came to open up the schoolhouse one morning. As he unlocked the door, a big goose flew right into his face. As the teacher, surprised, stepped aside, out came another. The whole schoolroom was full of geese.

When the scholars came into school the teacher was in a great rage. He tried at once to find out who had locked the geese in the schoolroom. He finally decided on four boys as the guilty ones, because they were the most mischievous lads, and he told them they were expelled. William was one of them.

Now William was greatly pleased, for the teacher was really very mean man, and he was glad to be free of school. He hurried out of the schoolroom, got on the horse he always rode to school, and away he went.

His sister Chattie was out in front of the house and to her surprise saw her brother galloping up, waving his hands gaily. As soon as he got near enough he shouted out in great glee, "Chattie! I've got the sack," meaning that he had been expelled.

After that he was sent to a boarding school, where he really learned something.

Sir William Oser, born July 12, 1849, in upper Canada, became one of the world's great physicians, making many discoveries in medicine.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily's Mud Pies

(Copyright, 1929, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Uncle Wiggily was very fond of playing tricks and jokes on his forty sixteen little rabbit boys and girls. More than once he had gotten up early in the morning just to change around the shoes and stockings of the bunny children so they would all be mixed up when they started to dress.

Of course, Uncle Wiggily did not play a trick like that on the mornings when there was school. For he did not want the children to be late. So he only mixed the shoes and stockings on Saturday or in vacation time, when there was no school.

"Dear me!" squeaked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy one morning after Uncle Wiggily had locked her out of the kitchen so she could crawl in through the pantry window.

"Dear me! I believe he would like to be April Fool all the while."

"He is too silly!" said Uncle Wiggily's wife.

"Oh, no!" laughed the muskrat lady housekeeper. "I don't mind a joke now and then."

"Oh, Daddicums! Don't do that!"

So Uncle Wiggily kept on playing tricks. Once he fixed the front door bell so it wouldn't stop ringing and Nurse Jane nearly ran her legs off trotting through the hall to see who was trying to get in when there was no one at all.

Another time Uncle Wiggily hid himself under the dining-room rug and suddenly jumped around so that Nurse Jane thought the rug had come to life and she was as surprised as anything.

But I started to tell you the trick Uncle Wiggily played with the mud pies. It happened, one day, that Jingle and Jangle, two of the girl bunnies, made some mud pies to have a dolls' play party.

Taking some nice clean mud, Jingle and Jangle mixed it up and put it in empty clam shells until it was partly dry. Then they turned the mud pies out, upside down, and put them in a row on a flat stump which they pretended was a table.

"Now we can have the party," said Jingle.

"And we'll help our dolls eat the chocolate pies," said Jangle. For they pretended that the gobs of mud were chocolate pies.

Each little rabbit girl took a bite and each doll was given a bite. Of course, I don't mean to say that the rabbits and dolls really ate the mud pies. They only pretended, just as you have done.

"Oh, I know what we can do!" all of a sudden cried Jingle.

"What?" asked Jangle.

"We can go down to the brook and pick some flowers for our dolls' mud pie party table," said Jingle.

So the two little rabbit girls, leaving their dolls sitting at the stump, on which there were still a number of mud pies, ran down to the brook. Then along hopped Uncle Wiggily.

Seeing the mud pies, the rabbit gentleman thought of a trick he could

To-morrow's Horoscope

SATURDAY, JULY 13, 1929

Astrologers read this as an unfavorable day that may justify certain superstitions regarding the number thirteen.

Under this way the mentality may be at a low ebb which permits fault-finding and irritability.

The judgment should not be trusted in business or in human relations, while this rule prevails, for the tendency will be toward what is distinctly unfavorable to the future.

Delays and obstacles may be encountered in whatever is constructive in to-day's efforts. It is a time for rest and recreation. Women may be especially difficult to deal with under this direction of the stars which may incline them to be exacting, suspicious and even jealous.

In business or the professions it is well not to engage in any new venture under this direction of the stars. Initiative may be unfortunate.

On this day wise persons will listen to plans or suggestions that are constructive, but delay action, the seers declare.

Women should be especially cautious and circumspect in whatever they do under this direction of the stars.

It is not a lucky day to seek positions of any sort and especially unfavorable to girls who desire employment.

Entertainments of every sort, particularly those in honor of celebrities may not be successful today.

Confusion of thought, which probably will be apparent today, may affect persons who exercise authority.

It is an unfavorable day for asking favors of any sort and also for those who present letters of introduction or reminders of promises of preference.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the auster of a year of testing. It is best to pursue beaten paths.

Children born on this day probably will be studious and inclined to research work in science or history. The subjects of this sign usually do not care for fame, but many achieve distinction.

Renier de Graaf, pioneer anatomist, was born on this day, 1644. Others who have claimed it as a birthday were James Savase, noted antiquary, 1784; and Albert Baur, history painter, 1835.

play. He laughed to himself and twinkled his nose.

"I'll hop to the candy store and buy some coconut chocolate cakes of candy that look just like these mud pies," said the rabbit. "I'll throw away the mud pies and put the chocolate candy in their place. Then, when Jingle and Jangle came back from the brook, I'll hop along again. I'll pretend to want a mud pie and I'll pick up one of the chocolate candy pies and eat it. Jingle and Jangle will think I am eating mud and it will give them a great surprise."

Uncle Wiggily changed the mud pies for chocolate candy pieces and hid in the bushes until the rabbit girls came back from the brook with flowers for their stump table.

Then Uncle Wiggily hopped out, and pretending he didn't know any better, he asked:

"Have you anything good to eat?"

"Only pie," said Jingle.

"But they're mud pies and we only pretend to eat them!" said Jangle.

"Oh, I'm so hungry! I think I could even eat a mud pie!" cried Uncle Wiggily.

At a sudden he picked up from the table a round chocolate coconut candy that looked exactly like a mud pie and he popped it into his mouth.

"Oh, Daddicums! Don't do that!" cried Jingle.

"Oh! Oh! He's eating mud!" shouted Jangle.

"It's like this kind of mud!" said Mr. Longears. Jingle and Jangle made a jump for him, trying to stop him from taking more bites of what they thought were gobs of mud. But when they saw the white coconut candy showing through the outside chocolate, then they opened their eyes wide. Uncle Wiggily laughed and said:

"This is just a little trick of mine. Have some mud pie, my dears!"

Then Jingle and Jangle tasted what they thought were mud pies and, lo and behold! They were chocolate coconut candy.

"Oh, what a jolly joke!" mumbled Jingle, chewing the coconut.

And if the egg beater will take a little time off to knock some of the spots off the polka dot dress, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Susie's sewing.

Delegates to Trade Board's Parley Select Courtenay For Next Convention

Entertainment By B.C. Electric at Jordan River Provides Novel Programme To-day

A. Leighton of Nanaimo was yesterday afternoon elected president of the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island, at the conclusion of the business session of the annual convention held at the Chamber of Commerce. The election of Mr. Leighton resulted when Rev. M. W. J. Bruce, president for the last two years, and a candidate for re-election, broke a tie vote by casting his ballot for his opponent.

P. L. Anderson of Courtenay was elected vice-president, and M. C. Ironside reappointed secretary-treasurer, with an increased honorarium in recognition of his arduous labors.

The convention accepted a joint invitation from the Cumberland and Courtenay boards to hold the 1924 sessions in Courtenay.

Votes of thanks for hospitality were passed to the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, the Victoria Rotary Club and the British Columbia Electric Railroad Company Limited.

Following the close of business, the delegates were the guests of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce at a well-attended banquet held at the Chamber of Commerce restaurant, at which R. W. Mayhew, vice-president, occupied the chair in the absence of P. B. Fowler, president, now in England.

MANY ADDRESSES
Following a warm welcome to the delegates, voiced by Mr. Mayhew on behalf of the Victoria Chamber, Reginald Hayward, M.P.P., spoke briefly on behalf of Premier Tolmie and the Provincial Government, and Mayor Herbert Anson extended the civic greetings of the city of Victoria.

Rev. Mr. Bruce, retiring president during the last year, A. Leighton, the new president, told of the programme he hoped to see accomplished during his year of office and P. L. Anderson, vice-president, told of the opportunities for business and other development existing in Courtenay and Cumberland districts.

Other speakers included Reeve William Gough of Saanich, G. A. Cheeke of Cobble Hill, E. L. Kenney of Ladysmith, P. S. Cumliffe of Nanaimo, E. C. Lang of Cumberland, H. A. McKillop of Sidney, Thos Pitt of Duncan, and Capt. R. P. Matherson of Esquimalt.

Moving pictures were shown of steelhead fishing in the waters of the streams of Vancouver Island.

VIEW POWER WORKS
The delegates are to-day being entertained by the British Columbia Electric Railway Company at the Jordan River power plant. Two large buses were required to convey the party from the company's offices at Port and Langley Street, departure from the city taking place shortly after 9:30 o'clock.

On arrival at the generating station the delegates were shown around the machinery, in small groups, each in charge of one of the members of the engineering staff, who explained the operation of the great generators and the auxiliary apparatus.

Following luncheon the delegates were taken on the scenic railway trip to the great storage dam, the route along the miles of flow line proving highly interesting to the visitors.

The large construction and lumbering operations in hand for the further expansion of the capacity of the plant were examined with interest. Proposals for the use of the full possible storage were explained by officers of the company as the cars passed Bear and Alligator Creeks, the sites of the supplementary storage and development works.

Afternoon tea was served in the manager's cottage, and speakers for the visitors commented upon the magnitude of the development at Jordan River. The party will arrive back in the city shortly after 6:30 o'clock.

Miss Mabel Rich of Toronto
Completes Course in Music Appreciation

Explains Value of Discriminating Taste; Foresees Gramophones in All Schools

After giving a succinct course in "Music Appreciation" to students at the Summer School for Teachers, Miss Mabel Rich, educational director of the Victor Talking Machine Company, left Victoria for Edmonton this afternoon, to continue courses in the subject at the summer school in that city.

Yesterday Miss Rich gave her last lesson in the art of teaching music appreciation at the summer school here and concluded the lecture with an operatic on "Il Trovatore."

In referring to the value of the classes she was conducting, Miss Rich noted that of the nation were hearing a discriminating taste in music was hardly necessary. Few homes were equipped with gramophones and radio was a thing unknown. Now, however, the great majority were constantly brought into touch with music of some kind or other. Under the present system, Miss Rich continued, the children and adults were hearing a great deal of popular and jazz music. This she considered to be alright in its own place, but with radio artists pouring out this volume of light music, she felt the necessity of giving the listening public an appreciation of good music.

BALANCED MUSICAL DIET
As she expressed it, "It is necessary to give the public a balanced diet of music, just as it is necessary to give them a balanced diet of food."

To forward this study of classical and operatic selections, Miss Rich is superintending a series of educational records. She has also written two books on the subject of music appreciation.

The course she completed yesterday was an intensive study of methods of teaching instructors how to teach pupils the art of appreciating good music.

In addition to her general lessons, Miss Rich yesterday gave a model lesson at the Metropolitan vocational school. In this she spoke to the children of the different phases of music and illustrated her points with selections on the Victrola.

GIVES OPERALOGUE
Concluding her lecture at the summer school yesterday, she gave an operatic on "Il Trovatore." Opening with a sketch of the history of the opera, she continued with its story, interpolating the selections, "The Anvil Chorus," "Miserere" and "Home to Our Mountains."

The installation of talking machines in all schools was almost inevitable, Miss Rich stated. At present a great number in the province are equipped with these instruments, and many more, including rural schools, will soon be installing the machines, she added. She is looking forward hopefully to the time when talking pictures are introduced into the elementary educational institutions. With the advent of these sound pictures, which Miss Rich expects to see some time in the future, the children will be educated into a taste for good music by both seeing and hearing the subject which they are studying and will secure a much more comprehensive knowledge of famous selections in appropriate settings delineated on the screen.

MAY USE RADIOS
However, before reaching that stage, Miss Rich expects to see schools pass through the stage where radios will be used as the source of music teaching. To meet this demand, which she considers almost inevitable, the Victor people are already working on a series of courses.

During the recent courses at the summer school, instruments and necessary equipment were loaned to Miss Rich by David Spencer Limited and Fletcher Brothers Victoria Limited.

After completing her courses in Edmonton Miss Rich will continue to Winnipeg to continue her work there.

COLISEUM STORY

A picture of aviators made by aviators. This is "Wings," Paramount's war-time epic of the air, now playing at the Coliseum Theatre.

The story came from the pen of John Monk Saunders, an instructor in the United States Air Corps during the war. It was directed by William Wellman, who served with the Lafayette Escadrille.

Richard Arlen, playing one of the featured roles in "Wings" was a member of the Royal Flying Corps. Clara Bow has one of the leading feminine roles.

Hoot Gibson wanders from the rolling hills and high mountains of his western country to a charming and romantic section of California where traces of the early Spaniards still exist, for his latest Universal picture, "Burning the Wind," the current attraction at the Columbia Theatre.

Virginia Brown Baire appears opposite him as a Spanish girl, while others in the cast are Cesare Gravina, Robert Homing, Georges Grandjean, Boris Karloff and Peewee Holmes. Henry McRae and Herbert Blache directed.

DIX PLAYS ROLE OF
ROMANTIC SOLDIER
IN CAPITOL FILM

Richard Dix, idol of thousands of movie fans, moves up a notch on the scale of success in the leading role as Captain Yeuill, brave, romantic soldier of the British army in India in the Paramount feature picture, "The Wheel of Life," at the Capitol Theatre.

"The Wheel of Life" is great material for Mr. Dix because it brings him forward in a role of the type in which he seems to be most at home. He is the he-man without losing the poise of the gentleman. He is bold and fearless without losing the restraint of the chivalrous lover.

DRAMATIC STORY OF NEWSPAPER LIFE IN DOMINION PICTURE

With the current stage vogue for newspaper plays, Pathe steps to the front with one of the first photoplays of this type to reach the screen. It is showing at the Dominion Theatre to-day and Saturday in the form of "The Office Scandal," a sound-dialogue production which has won encomiums from preview critics.

Starring Phyllis Haver and with an elaborate cast, including Raymond Hatton, Marjorie Livingston and Leslie Fenton, "The Office Scandal" is a tense murder mystery that comes home to rest in the very editorial room that is trying feverishly to solve the case.

Although the picture was declared after initial preview by Motion Picture News and Film Mercury to be the best newspaper story to reach the screen, it is said to be much more than that.

GRAIN GROWERS
QUIT CO-OP. UNION

Winnipeg, July 12.—One of the largest produce marketing corporations in Western Canada to-day indicated definitely that it would withdraw its affiliation from the Co-operative Union of Canada, at the congress of that body here, when Hon. T. A. Crerar, president of the United Grain Growers Ltd., Winnipeg, replied to charges leveled against the United Grain Growers by delegates from Saskatchewan, that the company "no longer retained its co-operative spirit."

A resolution presented by H. W. Ketcheson, Davidson, Sask., chairman of the resolution committee, asking the resignation of the United Grain Growers Ltd., received the support of several delegates before Hon. Mr. Crerar announced the intention of serving notice of his company's withdrawal from the Co-operative Union.

In speaking of the statement that the United Grain Growers had forsaken the co-operative method of regular business, Mr. Crerar strongly decried that the company had ever swerved from its original plan to work for the benefit of the western farmer.

"Our business details have not changed in any detail since 1906, when we started business," Mr. Crerar stated. "The company has always felt a strong co-operative spirit, still does and always will."
